Man Fined $250 For Wild Driving

Ralph Booth, Los Angeles, was fined $250 on a charge of reckless driving, when he appeared in justice court today.

He was arrested yesterday afternoon on Irvine boulevard and lodged in the county jail last night. Officers Walter Meyers and Ray Eradfield made the arrest. Booth was booked at the jail yesterday for driving a car while intoxicated, and a small amount of alleged whiskey was said to have been found in his possession, they reported.

A woman in the car with him was not held by authorities.

COUNTY SHRINE CLUB WILL BE HOST TO BAND

The May dance of the Orange County Shrine club, held last night at Huntington Beach, was featured by announcement by C. J. Cogan, president of the club, that the band of the Wichita (Kas.) temple would be guests of Orange county on June 1. Wives of some of the members of the band will accompany them to the meeting of the Imperial council in Los Angeles, and the party will number approximately 125 men and women.

The group will be met at San Bernardino at 8 a. m., by automobiles from the city and will be brought to Orange County park, where lunch will be served.

Lunches for guests. Cogan announced today he would at once appoint a committee of women to take charge of the work of providing lunches for the visitors and those who will transport them from San Bernardino. An appeal was made to the wives of Nobles to co-operate in this work. The lunches will be packed in cartons, to be furnished by the club. Following the lunch at the park, the Nobles and their wives will be taken for a ride to the most important sections of Orange county, the tour concluding with a visit to the Valencia Orange show, at Anaheim.

The itinerary will include Hewes park, Tustin and Santa Ana. The band will give a brief concert in Santa Ana at a point to be designated later.

Twenty-five automobiles already have been volunteered for the excursion and many more are being required. Cogan asked that Shriners who will volunteer their cars notify him or J. M. Cloyes, secretary.

Oil Company Courtesy.

Of special interest to the wives of Shriners was the announcement that the Union Oil company had reserved four of the largest rooms in the company's building at Seventh and Hope streets for use of Shriners and their wives during the big convalesce in Los Angeles. The rooms, Nos. 408-9-10-11, have been reserved for the week of May 30-June 6. Visitors may have their mail sent to that address. Nobles will be present to advise as to program features and to give other information that may be desired. Steno typewriters also will be provided to take letters for visitors. The company is extending the courtesy through its secretary, John McPeak.

With 92 couples present, the dance at the Huntington Beach pavilion was one of the intimate social affairs for which the Shrine club is noted. The floor was in splendid condition and Musgrove's orchestra offered a program of delightful dance numbers. A special "colored" entertainer from Los Angeles regaled the party with clever stories and songs.

The dance was the annual courtesy of Nobles of Huntington Beach to members of the club, and was successful in every particular. The Huntington Beach committee directing arrangements was composed of J. O. Pyle, Leonard Obarr, H. V. Anderson, R. J. Prescott and J. H. Eader.

Police News

Detective Earl Lentz, of the city police, is ill at his home, 309 West Cubbon street. He will be confined to his bed for several days, it was reported today.

H. W. Lawrence, 1114 West Fourth street, reported to police last night that several boys had been destroying property near his house. Trees and shrubbery have been damaged by the boys.

Santa Ana's rabbit losses, caused by thieves, increased again last night, with the report today that six black rabbits were stolen from the home of Paul W. Ladiges, 411 South Artesia street. The rabbits were taken from the back yard. The report is the fifth received of rabbit thefts by police within a week.

Four bicycles have been stolen from yards and front porches in Santa Ana within the past two days, reports to police reveal. W. W. Crawford, 522 East Pine street, reported theft of his bicycle last night. Other bicycles reported stolen since Thursday belonged to Henry Gay, 1219 West Second street; J. E. Lambert, 309 South Garvey street, and Joe Gunther, 120 West First street.

Francisco Ramos, sentenced in Fullerton to 500 days in the Orange county jail was brought to the jail last night to begin sentence.

A man, thought to have escaped from the Norwalk hospital, was arrested by Officer Howell, at Laguna Beach last night. He is being held here pending arrival of authorities from the hospital.

It took the city police just 40 minutes to locate a stolen car, early this morning. Fred Porgy, local attorney, reported to police at 11:55 o'clock last night that his car had been stolen from Sixth and Main streets. At 12:45 a. m., Officer Wilson found the car at Fifth and Spurgeon streets. It had evidently been driven out of the city and returned within the hour.

S. A. Real Estate Man Is Arrested On Booze Charge

J. N. Ellis, real estate man, is in the toils of the law again. Following the alleged finding of three gallons of whiskey in the garage of his home, at 702 East Chestnut street, late yesterday, Ellis was arrested by Chief of Police Claud Rogers and Officer Jaynes, on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor. He later was released on $400 bail. Ellis will be arraigned before City Recorder J. F. Talbot at 10 a. m. Monday.

Ellis was arrested on a similar charge Nov. 26, 1924, police records show. He was found guilty at that time and was fined $100.

SUNDAY CHURCH SERVICES MARK MOTHER'S DAY

"Mother's day" will be generally observed tomorrow throughout Santa Ana with special services in churches and other customary forms of observance.

Ministers, regardless of denomination, will extol the glory of motherhood, and will exert every effort to make the day an occasion of tender remembrance.

In accordance with a custom that has sprung up all over the country, this is the day on which each man writes a letter to his mother, if absent; tells her in person that he loves and adores her, if she is still living; and, if she is dead, wears a white carnation as a token of remembrance.

Flowers for Mothers. Women folk are requested to bring their mothers bouquets of flowers as an outward expression of similar sentiment.

The observance of Mother's day was originated in 1908 by Miss Anna Jarvis, a Sunday school teacher of Philadelphia, where the custom was first introduced in the churches.

Official recognition of the day is contained in a joint resolution adopted by congress in 1914, designating the second Sunday of May as Mother's day.

National Observance. This resolution authorized the president of the United States to issue a proclamation calling upon the people to display flags at their homes or other suitable places as a public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of the country.

Observance of Mother's day is a beautiful custom that has the earnest support and indorsement of leaders in all walks of life, including ministers of religion and educators. In the last few years, it has been customary for each man to wear a pink or red carnation if his mother is still living, the symbol of ever present love and devotion; if she has passed on, a white carnation, the floral emblem of mother love because of its sweetness, purity and endurance.

Came to Pay Fine; Got Jail Instead

Handing Justice Kenneth Morrison an arrest slip at noon today, B. Jensen, San Diego, appeared in court to answer to a speeding charge.

"I came to pay my fine, judge," he said.

"There won't be any fine. You get five days in jail," he was told. Jensen was charged with speeding 51 miles an hour on a motorcycle. He pleaded guilty and will appear at the jail next Wednesday to begin sentence.

Lady Canton Club

When the Ladies Canton auxiliary of the L.O.O.F. lodge met Wednesday afternoon in Odd Fellows hall, it was more than just the regular gathering, for while tongues and fingers flew at the work of making new badges for the members progressed, there were subdued murmurs indicating some pleasant secret among the members. For a surprise had been planned to honor the birthday and anniversary of their president, Mrs. Charles Eckles, which fell upon that day, and even then, in another room, a beautiful white birthday cake was waiting for the moment when Mrs. Eckles should first behold it and its inscription lettered in pink. This was "Birthday Greetings from the Lady Cantons."

After the joyful excitement had subsided, and Mrs. Eckles had expressed her pleasure for the remembrance, the members resumed their work and also plans for a pot-luck supper to be given soon with the Canton.

Book Review Club

Book Review club members will have the pleasure of hearing a brilliant speaker Tuesday night in the person of a former Santa Ana pastor, the Rev. Fred Staff, predecessor of the Rev. Perry F. Schrock in the Congregational ministry here.

"Leaders in Scandinavian Literature" will be the theme of the Rev. Mr. Staff's address and special reference will be given the Nobel prize winners. He is well qualified indeed to speak on the subject as he is particularly well-versed in literature of his native country. He was born near Stockholm and came to this country when 18 years of age.

The Book Review will meet as usual with the Edward M. Nealey's at their Glen avenue home in Tustin, at 7:45 p. m.

LIONS DECIDE TO BUILD BOYS' MOUNTAIN HOME

With virtually all the clubs approval, construction by Lions clubs of the county of Lions lodge at Camp Osceola, the Y. M. C. A. camp in the San Bernardino mountains, was assured, according to James McDill, Santa Ana Lion, heading the activity.

The plan of assessing each member $5 to pay for the lodge has been approved by all of the clubs except those at Huntington Beach and Garden Grove. Directors of these two clubs have taken favorable action and the club membership later will have opportunity to give individual stamp of approval. The movement was inaugurated by the Orange County Council of Lions Clubs and McDill has been engaged since in visiting the various clubs and presenting the proposition.

It is proposed to build a lodge 30 by 60 feet, with a 10-foot porch, to cost approximately $1400. According to McDill, there are 270 Lions in the county and the assessment of $5 each will take care of the expense. Club members who are in the material supply business have offered to contribute material and the actual cash outlay may be considerably less than the estimate.

It is proposed to make the lodge available to Y. M. C. A. boys attending the camp this summer. The camp will be used by Santa Ana boys from June 23 to July 4; by boys from the Fullerton district from July 1 to 21, and by boys from Orange and Anaheim from July 21 to August 4. At present, 56 boys is the camp limit.

Your Dollars Roll Farther

Dear Charlie:

Money talks these days—and just a little louder than ever before.

Gardner owners, for instance, have found that THEIR dollars have more "cents." They roll farther than the motor dollars of most motorists.

You see, things have changed a lot in recent years. Once it was the "fours" that led the procession but every man on automobile row today will tell you that YOUR DOLLARS ROLL FARTHEST with an Eight-in-line.

In my judgment the Gardner Super-8 heads them all. Why? Because millions have been spent in PRACTICAL EXPERIMENTS and ENGINEERING RESEARCH. The result is a SUPER-8 in every sense of the word.

Remember, Charlie, the Gardner is the lowest priced Eight-in-line closed car in America.

JAILED AS DRUNK; BEATS PRISONER

Charged with being drunk, V. O. Ward, San Pedro, was arrested by Constable Jesse Elliott, of the Garden Grove road, yesterday afternoon. Elliott was on his way to Norwalk, so he left his prisoner at the Anaheim jail.

Today, Ward faces a charge of assault and battery, to be filed by Chief C. B. Nichols, of the Anaheim police force. A Mexican, Truquillo Carrillo, is in the Orange County hospital, suffering from a badly broken nose, and severe injuries about the face and head, following a melee at the Anaheim jail when Ward was locked up.

According to Elliott, Ward was in a fighting mood at being jailed, and is alleged to have beaten the Mexican when he found himself locked up.

Ward, at the time of his arrest, was riding in a car driven by E. F. Butcher, Long Beach, according to Elliott. Butcher was arrested on a reckless driving charge. He was cited to appear in Justice Morrison's court here today, following the trial of Ward on the assault charge, he would be brought here to face the original charge.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

STANCE AND SWING
Perhaps you recall the celebrated bore who knew but one story about a gun. Craftily watching his chance at the dinner table, he would, during a lull in the conversation, stamp his heel and exclaim, "Ha! what was that? It sounded like the report of a gun. Speaking of guns"—then he was off and not even a traffic policeman could have stopped him. Similarly, one dislikes to make these articles sound like a bugle blown continuously upon one note, with a never-ending plea not to jumble country fashions with own fashions; to dress up to the obligation of each occasion. Nevertheless, it must be set down that the most frequent criticism heard from foreigners about the dress of the American is that he does not wear the right style in the right place at the right time. For example, ocean travelers continually offend the sensibilities of Englishmen by assuming golf suits on shipboard, where they are as out of their course as dance shoes would be on the golf course.

The folk suit belongs upon or near the links, and nowhere else. It may be, for, yes, the way to and from the game or around the club, but it is strictly and severely a golf suit, not a lounge suit. Europeans are punctilious to observe this distinction and they condemn those who don't. Americans are prone to look upon golf clothes as though they were, in the vernacular, general utility clothes serving any old purpose from paddling a canoe to bestriding a horse. It's the wrong idea. Be corrected and be correct.

The 3-button golf suit, portrayed in the accompanying sketch, presents a spry, young-mannish style of the season. The shoulders are broad; the hips are narrow. The front is rounded off after the English manner. The collar is wide; the lapels are full and blunt or semi-peaked. There are two side patch pockets and one or two breast patch pockets. The jacket is loose-draping.

While the knitted sweater, jumper or jersey, of which a glimpse is given in the picture, may well be worn with one's golf kit, there is a spreading vogue for the knitted waistcoat. This is not as warm as the pull-on sweater and is easier to take off. Naturally, the man who plays in his shirt-sleeves has no use for either garment. However, this practice is not countenanced by the best taste and is never adopted by international "stars." They know that to be properly turned out steadies stance and swing.

DRUMM TELLS KNIGHTS ABOUT COURT DUTIES

An appeal for more effective law enforcement, including conscientious observance of all laws, and that a greater effort be made on the part of the average citizen to acquaint himself with the workings of the law and administration of justice, formed the keynote of an address delivered by Superior Judge E. C. Drumm, yesterday noon, before the Knights of the Round Table at their weekly luncheon meeting in St. Ann's inn.

Explaining the functions of the superior court, the local jurist told his audience that it takes cognizance of all civil cases involving more than $500, and all criminal cases beyond that of misdemeanor. Included in this jurisdiction is all divorce and domestic relations cases, the trial of which Judge Drumm characterized as the most unpleasant part of his work on the bench.

Peculiarities of Witnesses
The speaker injected a touch of humor in his talk as he described the various types of witnesses that swear "to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but truth." Some are very reluctant to answer questions, more so when the case involves domestic relations, he said. On the other hand, he added, some witnesses are apt to talk too much. Included in the latter class are women accustomed to have the last word in every argument, a practice that they adhere to in court when giving testimony.

Sharing the belief held by those who have been parties to a divorce suit, Judge Drumm declared that, without exception, the trial of divorce cases with their tales of woe and abuse, constitutes the most unpleasant part of a judge's duties. And he added that the experience is equally distasteful to both parties of the suit, as it is to the court.

Advices Matrimonially Inclined
Coupled with this observation, he volunteered some wholesome advice to young men who might be tempted to try matrimony as an experience and afterward find themselves in the divorce court. There is one infallible rule that will keep a man away from the divorce court, he continued, and that panacea against family troubles is written in three words: "Don't get married!"

Judge Drumm had many things to say about his experience with jurors; of unpleasant situations when called upon to award custody of small, innocent children, often the real victims of matrimonial tragedies, and of his dislike to sentence a young man to a prison term when frequently such procedure makes a criminal of what otherwise might have made a good citizen.

Scouts Compete In First Aid Contests

Preliminaries in the first aid contest sponsored by the Boy Scout organization of Orange county were held throughout the county last night. The finals will take place at the Y. M. C. A. May 15, starting at 7:45 o'clock. The following troops will compete in the finals: Troop No. 3, Huntington Beach; Troop 3, Santa Ana; Troop 3, Orange; Troop 1, Anaheim, and either Troop 2 or Troop 3, Fullerton.

The tie between the two latter troops will be decided next Wednesday night.

Judgment for $1400, alleged to be due on a note, was asked today in a suit filed in superior court by F. C. Pope, of Santa Ana, against W. M. Mills. Attorneys Harvey and Harvey represent Pope.

Wants Land Back

J. F. Allen, of Santa Ana, appeared as plaintiff today in a superior court action against Justice A. E. Koepf, of $48,000, which only $9000 has been paid. The defendant, it is alleged, has failed to keep an agreement to pay $4000 from the current crop, and $3500 per year.

Would Sell Real Estate

The Ebell club, of Anaheim, today had a petition on file in superior court, asking leave to sell certain real estate in Anaheim in order to build a clubhouse upon another site the club owns.

Petitions for Will Probate

Elmer R. Thompson, of Santa Ana, today petitioned the superior court to probate the will of his deceased father, James K. Thompson, who left a $2000 estate to his eight children. Four of the heirs reside in the county. They are Elmer and Bert Thompson and Dolly Bates, of Santa Ana, and Eva MacNeese, of Tustin.

Sue On Mechanic's Lien

The Gibson Lumber company, of Fullerton, asked foreclosure of a mechanic's lien of $8144 against property of E. A. Starr and the Stern Realty company, in a suit on file today in superior court. Attorney William L. Waters, Fullerton, represents the plaintiff.

Title Is Quieted

A decree quieting title to land near this city was granted late yesterday by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, in connection with the suit brought by Elizabeth Lamb against M. B. Cohn.

Frank Brown in Jail

Frank Brown was in the county jail today, starting a sentence of 90 days, administered by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams after Brown pleaded guilty late yesterday to a charge of issuing a fictitious check.

Three Get Divorces

Three Santa Ana wives, two of whom had been deserted while the third complained that her husband had been sent to prison, were granted interlocutory decrees of divorce late yesterday by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams.

Mrs. Tillie Sanchez, represented by Attorneys Z. B. West Jr. and Franklin G. West, presented proof that Paul Sanchez, her husband, had been sent to San Quentin in 1913 for a statutory offense.

Mrs. Mae Baxter charged her husband, Ben Baxter, with desertion. Attorney Clyde Bishop represented her.

Mrs. Ada Dibble also received her decree against A. C. Dibble on grounds of desertion. Bishop and Wellington were her attorneys.

PAPER ADMITS CHARGES ABOUT PASTOR FALSE

Extremely sensational charges made against the Rev. J. A. Geissinger, pastor of the White Temple Methodist church, Anaheim, by the Plain Dealer of that city, during the recall election in Anaheim several months ago, were made maliciously and without foundation in fact, according to a signed retraction by the publishers, R. W. Ernest and Paul V. Ernst, published in the final issue of the Plain Dealer last evening. With that issue, the paper ceased publication, having been absorbed by the Bulletin.

Following the election, the Rev. Mr. Geissinger filed suit against the publication for libel, asking damages in the amount of $90,000. The suit has been settled on the basis of the publishers paying all costs incurred in the action by Geissinger and a retraction by the paper.

Went Beyond Bounds

"Both of us recognize the fact that even though those articles appeared during a hotly contested campaign they went beyond all bounds and were without foundation in fact. The articles in question charged Dr. Geissinger with being a trouble maker wherever he went, with disrupting the various churches he has served, with playing dirty politics and directly accusing him of organizing the bootleggers and old soaks of Anaheim to break down law and order and carry the election for open town. Dr. Geissinger was also accused in these articles, with being a pacifist and with disloyalty during the war, just escaping the hand of the law again and again.

"The Plain Dealer was drawn into this vicious personal attack in its support under recall of councilman candidates it backed last spring and which had the backing of the Ku Klux Klan, but the attack on Dr. Geissinger was wholly without warrant, as he had vigorously championed law and order and religious liberty and he was not a candidate for office nor was he in any official relation to the U. S. A. organization backing the recall.

Charge Wholly Untrue

"We wish to say that the statement that he was ever summoned before the Council of Defense for any personal lapse or any phase of disloyalty is wholly untrue. Nor was he ever in any pacifist meeting much less ever present, as the Plain Dealer charged, when the Stars and Stripes were stepped upon.

The Plain Dealer now recognizes that it was wrong in representing that Dr. Geissinger and the U. S. A. organization were working to restore liquor conditions in Anaheim. Dr. Geissinger insisted constantly when candidates were being sought that only honest men should be considered.

The policy of the U. S. A. club was to secure men who had been successful in their own affairs, men of sound business judgment and of Christian character. We gladly acknowledge that such men are now seated in our city council and this is due more largely to the stand taken by Dr. Geissinger than by any other man's work.

Correct Misapprehension

"The Plain Dealer wishes also to correct another misrepresentation concerning Dr. Geissinger. We told our readers just before election that the threatening letter sent to him and which he published was a fabrication invented by himself or his friends for political effect. We had no right to make such a charge as we had no information to that effect.

"The Plain Dealer has had for several years past an honest pride in the work and success of the White Temple under the direction of Dr. Geissinger and has seen it become one of the leading churches of Southern California in the last five years. Dr. Geissinger's work elsewhere has borne fruit last night and the Plain Dealer maliciously slandered him when it tried to make the people believe that he had been a builder of churches and wrecker of congregations."

S. A. Knights of Round Table Pay Mothers Tribute

With bowed heads, members of the Santa Ana Round Table yesterday at their weekly luncheon meeting at St. Ann's inn, paid silent tribute to the motherhood of the country.

The ceremony followed a brief address by Clyde Downing, presiding knight, who, calling attention to the approach of Mother's day, May 10, said that the American mother is the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration. In the course of his remarks, he paid tribute to those patriotic women who, during the tragic days of the World war, offered their sons on the altar of the nation.

A pleasing number of the program was a contralto solo by Mrs. Cecil Willets, accompanied by Mrs. L. L. Archibald.

With the appointment of Mrs. F. M. Medbury as chairman of a special committee on arrangements, plans were completed yesterday for a basket dinner and dance to be held in the evening of Friday, May 22, at the Orange County park.

Plans for a dinner dance at the Santa Ana Country club were also discussed, and the entertainment committee was directed to submit a tentative program for the occasion.

CITES SUICIDE ATTEMPT HERE IN DIVORCE SUIT

Carl A. Roby, San Francisco man, who failed in a reported attempt to commit suicide here several days ago, after being unable to effect a reconciliation with his estranged wife, was made defendant today in a superior court action for divorce, filed by the wife, Mabel R. Roby, of 920 South Parton street.

In her complaint, which was filed through Attorneys Kaufman and Martell, Mrs. Roby charges non-support and cruelty. Roby's alleged suicide attempt and its attendant publicity were cited as an instance of the cruelty his conduct inflicted upon his wife. He was despondent by nature and often threatened to "end it all," the complaint stated.

On May 2, according to Mrs. Roby, her husband left a suitcase on the sidewalk in front of her father's home, where she resides. It was a note telling her to "look around the premises next morning" and she "would find what was left of him."

The next morning, it was said, he slashed his arm with a knife and was found on the porch of a neighbor's house, in a semi-conscious condition. From there, he was removed to a hospital, where it was said he would recover.

The Robys were married at Grand Junction, Colo., April 20, 1919, and separated Nov. 26, 1923, in Santa Ana.

MRS. WHEATLEY IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Cora M. Wheatley, wife of Charles B. Wheatley, convicted check kiter, now in Folsom prison, today filed suit for divorce.

Her complaint, filed in superior court through Attorney W. F. Menton, cited the felony conviction as grounds for the decree asked. Wheatley was sent to Folsom after passing a fictitious check for $8300 at a local bank, and securing $2500 of the amount in cash. He was captured three days later at Naples.

Previously accused of forging an indorsement to a county warrant for $5322, and with stealing $10,000 from the county treasurer's office, which charges were dismissed after $10,000 had been repaid to the county treasurer, Wheatley had been freed but a week when he passed the worthless check. Following his capture, he pleaded guilty and received a sentence of from one to 14 years at Folsom.

Having filed the divorce petition today, Mrs. Wheatley will leave tomorrow, it is said, for Mexico City, where she expects to make her home after the divorce proceedings are completed.

The Wheatleys were married at San Bernardino May 5, 1917, several months before Wheatley joined the artillery regiment with which he served overseas during the war.

WOMAN VERY NERVOUS

Weak, Blue, Discouraged—Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I was nervous and could not sleep, had crying spells and the blues, and didn't care if I lived or died. My right side was very bad and I had backache and a weakness. I read about your medicines in the papers and wrote for further information. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Medicine and Liver Pills, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I have had good results in every way and am able to do my work again and can eat anything that comes along. My friends tell me how well I am looking."—Mrs. F. K. BETTER AND BETTER

Dependable ten years ago, and five years ago, and more dependable than ever today, Dodge Brothers Motor Car simply represents the latest phase in a process of continual betterment.

The first cars Dodge Brothers built established a world-wide reputation. The cars they are building today incorporate the accumulated refinements of those ten intervening years.

That important improvements in the comfort and appearance of the car are made from time to time, implies no basic departure from Dodge Brothers traditional policy of progressive rather than seasonal development.

RICHARD TALMADGE FILM AT WALKER'S TONIGHT
In order to be sure that all the details of his role as a young newspaper editor would be correct, Richard Talmadge spent several days in one of the biggest newspaper offices in Los Angeles preparing for his latest picture, "Youth and Adventure," which will be shown at Walker's theater tonight.

Lucille Lee Stewart and Charles Mack in a scene from "Bad Company," picture showing Sunday and Monday at the Yost theater.

The Carlos star, who is a stickler for getting things right, has reproduced the newspaper atmosphere with the greatest fidelity in the new production, and incidentally goes through more than his usual allotment of daring feats. The big fight scenes in which Talmadge triumphs over the hired thugs of the political boss, and those in which he escapes from pursuers along the perilous narrow path of a high roller coaster are magnificent thrills and eclipse anything even the intrepid Talmadge has ever done.

"LEARNING TO LOVE" AT TEMPLE TONIGHT
Constance Talmadge, always piquantly alluring, daintily beautiful, is quite positive she is the young mistress of all of love's secrets in "Learning to Love," her latest comedy which will be shown at the Temple theater tonight and tomorrow.

The ease with which she has "vamped" the headmaster of her exclusive boarding school, and the five proposals of marriage she has received from college boy admirers, even before she has made her debut, convince her of the fact. Why, even the office boy in her guardian's office falls down in worship before her flashing eyes.

But a jolt to her pride lies in store when she meets the guardian of her wealth (Antonio Moreno). He merely smiles sympathetically, almost pathetically, in response to her flapperish assaults upon his heart. He is past the college boy estate—a man of affairs.

And so Constance begins to learn the meaning of real love. They marry, of course, but through a ruse she plans. And he, learning of it, quits her at once. Off she goes to Paris for a divorce, planning later to wed one of the five fiancés whose engagements she forgot to cancel before marrying.

But love has tied its knot too tight, and he follows, with happiness finding them in the end.

Betrothals Woman's Page Social Items Weddings By Eleanor Young Elliott Fashion Hints

Pretty Party Tells Betrothal Secret To Club

When Miss Louise Ford entertained the members of her club Thursday night at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rose Ford, 517 Wellington street, it was to offer a friendly evening of chat and needlework.

After a busy interval, when Miss Ford and her mother led the way to the dining-room, the guests found a table charming in color of rose, with Cecil Brunner buds massed in the center and dainty place cards from which pink ribbons led to the rosebuds. Pink candles formed the soft light and enabled the merry young people to decipher the place cards whose tiny Cupids announced the betrothal of the hostess, Miss Ford, to Rex McGill, an enterprising young business man of Orange.

A delicious Bavarian cream was served with cake and punch, and the guests left the table, each drew in the ribbon attached to her place card and received a cluster of the lovely roses of the centerpiece.

Miss Ford's guests were the Misses Henrietta Lykke, Madeleine O'Conner, Genevieve Galbraith, Maxine Latta, Dorothy Thurston, Mrs. Jack Kohler (Glenda Mae Waggoner), Mrs. Bob Wilson and Mrs. Harry Richmond.

Birthday Plans Fail to Surprise

The party given for Miss Rose Young at her home, 1412 North Broadway, Thursday afternoon, by a group of relatives and friends, in recognition of her natal day was not the complete surprise for the honoree that it was intended to be. However it involved unexpected developments, in that with the visitors also appeared many beautiful flowers and mysterious looking packages, which upon being opened revealed gifts which were sources of delight to the recipient.

A diversion of the pleasant afternoon was the game of rook, at which Mrs. W. C. Young proved to be the most skillful player. At the delicious supper which was served, the delightful birthday cake made by Miss Minnie Young, sister of Miss Rose, was the center of attraction, its snowy surface adorned with red candles. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Vaiter, Mrs. Charles Lipscomb, Mrs. George H. Dickson of Los Angeles, Mrs. Clara Andrews, Miss Ruth Andrews and Miss Minnie Young.

Parent-Teachers Assn.

High School
 Members of the High School P. T. A. are anticipating an unusually profitable and interesting year to be directed by the officers selected at the recent meeting in the Y hut. Recognizing the executive ability of Mrs. J. M. Burlew and her keen and tireless interest in the work, the association returned her to the presidency.

Serving with her will be Mrs. George F. Mudge, first vice-president; Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, second vice-president; Mrs. W. W. Adamson, corresponding secretary; Miss Ruth Rowland, recording secretary; Mrs. E. J. Bolles, financial secretary; Mrs. J. H. Metzger, treasurer; Mrs. C. B. Walbridge, historian; Mrs. Neal Beisel, parliamentarian; Mrs. W. F. Crites, auditor. Nearly 100 members were attracted to the Y hut to take part in the election.

John Muir
 John Muir P. T. A. will meet at the kindergarten of the school, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The kindergarten will have charge of the program and entertainment. Election of officers for the ensuing year will occupy the business session.

Household Economics

Attention of Ebell's second Household Economics section is called to the date of the luncheon which Mrs. Oliveri, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Keeler will present as the May meeting at the clubhouse. The luncheon will be given in the section room Wednesday, May 13, and not Monday, May 11. However the latter date is the final one in which members may call Mrs. Oliveri at 1714 J to tell her of their plans to attend.

'THREATENING WEATHER' IS EXPECTED FOR JUNE BRIDES

When hearts rejoice at the April showers that bring May flowers, no less rejoicing is felt in Cupid's realm by the May showers which herald an unusually large crop of June brides.

So the weather prediction "Threatening. Look out for showers" bears a happy significance for many a pretty Santa Ana maid who expects within the next few weeks, to become a charmingly dignified young matrons.

The past week has offered an unusually large number of thoughtful affairs by which close friends indicate their interest in approaching nuptials and their desire to be represented by gifts in the little homes to be established.

Kitchen showers and linen showers; handkerchiefs and dainty bits of trousseau finery; tried and true recipes; silver, glass and china; seeds, bulbs and plants for the little bride who loves gardening, are every kind of a shower one could imagine—one clever one we heard of even blazoned abroad as a "Woolworth" shower, and which yielded dozens of little household necessities for a highly appreciative honoree.

So it is a wise maid who carries an umbrella with her these days, for who knows when the showers may descend, both upon the just (engaged) and the unjust (hopeless)?

Butterfly Motif Used.

Butterflies in brilliant colors, hovered over every basket of bloom which adorned the pretty Lash home at 220 Cypress avenue last night when Miss Holly Lash and Miss Ethel Smallwood greeted a group of friends keenly interested in the approaching wedding of Miss Lois Wiggins and Robert Corbet.

Lois Wiggins and Cecil Brunner roses were the chosen flowers and with their accompanying butterflies gave a most attractive background for the butterfly and rosebud frocks of the light-hearted guests. The bridal theme of the evening was emphasized in every detail and in an amusing matrimonial game, Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford was awarded first prize, an incense burner.

A second feature was the distribution of pages from a loose-leaf recipe book beautifully decorated by Miss Smallwood whose artistic ability is famous among her friends and who likewise did all the exquisite butterfly decorations. When each guest had written her favorite recipe and added a brief word of advice to a bride, the pages were collected for Miss Wiggins to read aloud before they were bound in the book for her to keep as a pleasant memento and a future aid in culinary experiments.

Miss Madeline Moase was delighted in two musical settings, each highly appropriate to the occasion. "The Laurel Tree" and "One I Love." A story supposed to recount the romantic happenings of the honoree's life was read aloud by Miss Lash who omitted all the adjectives. These were supplied in turn by the guests among whom they had been distributed at random, and the result was both amusing and surprising.

With many "heartfelt" features, the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Moase, seemed quite fitting and was the processional to which Miss Smallwood entered the room bearing a butterfly-covered basket of linen, crystal, and all manner of pretty and useful articles which were the gifts of the assembled guests to Miss Wiggins.

After the many honoree had shared her pleasure in the basket and its contents with her friends, the hostesses served refreshments of fruit salad, heart-shaped sandwiches, coffee and mints. Each tray bore its favor of a dainty cluster of Cecil Brunner buds each with its attendant golden butterfly.

Out-of-town guests included in the invitation list were Mesdames Leo Calland, Los Angeles; Gerald Allen, Glendale; John S. Davidson, Fullerton; William Stroschein, Santa Barbara; Miss Hazel Johnson, Los Angeles, and Miss Frances Barbour, Garden Grove, while those from the city were the Misses Helen Walker, Kathleen Trago, Edith Aiton, Margaret May, Doris Pitschner, Edith Cheadle, Eleanor Sturgeon, Waive Kingley, Esther Anderson, Nancy Marshall, Hattie Hutton, Helen Randall, Elizabeth Anderson, Madeline Moase, Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, Mrs. Minnie Newman, Mrs. Helen Steadman, Mrs. David Carmichael, Mrs. Frank Charles Arnum and Mrs. Fannie Lash.

Dinner and Gifts.

When Miss Eunice Jones extended a charming hospitality last night to the members of the teaching staff at Lowell school where she is principal, the opportunity was taken for the entire group to compliment two brides-to-be who will forsake the teaching profession for an applied course in domestic science during the summer months.

The two so honored were Miss Hattie Hutton whose marriage to Victor Hutton will be an August event, and Miss Christine Schenck whose betrothal to Floyd Rogers will culminate in a June wedding. Roses offered the appropriate motif for the festive occasion which took the form of a dinner party in whose pleasant details of entertaining and serving, Miss Jones was assisted by her mother and sister, Mrs. A. A. Jones and Miss Vera Jones.

In addition to the hostess group, covers were laid for the Misses Nellie Wilkens, Lois Sweet, Evelyn Rose, Mamie Granholm, Jean Jones, Martha-Belle Pugh, Grace Bell, Mrs. Maxwell and the honor guests, Miss Schenck and Miss Hutton. Each found her place by means of a dainty rose-adorned

Details of Convention Held at Garden Grove Interest Baptists

Interesting details of the thirty-second annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Santa Ana Valley Baptist association at Garden Grove on Thursday were today being recalled by the 75 Santa Ana members registered as guests at the neighboring city whose First Baptist church offered hospitality.

It was matter for pride on the part of the Santa Anas that one of their own active members, Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, association president, should preside in so capable a manner and added pride was felt that another member, Mrs. T. N. Wells, should be extended special courtesies when introduced because of her presence at the organization meeting 33 years ago, in the San Bernardino church. With Mrs. Wells was introduced another charter member, Mrs. Bibber, who was accorded special honors.

Twelve cities and towns of the district were represented at Thursday's meeting and a number of men were among the 225 guests and delegates registered. The program featured three state officers, Miss Greene, Mrs. Arthur Willett and Mrs. M. Grant Edwards of Pasadena, state president.

The latter's talk on "Seven Wonderful Days in Washington" was a keenly interesting one to her audience and was a feature of the afternoon program. Miss Greene's topic was "Developing the Home Base", and Mrs. Willett gave a glimpse of plans for the future along special lines.

An interesting talk on Burma given by Miss Helen Bissell, appearing in native costume, another notable feature was the talk on "Stewardship of Possession" by Mrs. Paul Lindsey of Whittier, lauded as one of the most interesting speakers of the day. In thorough keeping with the theme was the dramatization of Stewardship, written by Mrs. Earl Morris of this city and presented by her in conjunction with the Philathea class of the local church.

Two quartettes were given prominent place on the program, one representing the Whittier church and one the Fullerton. Musical features further included whistling solos by Miss Mildred Marchant and vocal solos by Miss Margaret Jones of Riverside. Mrs. Otto Russell was at the piano for all solo work and the musical program was arranged and directed by Mrs. T. R. Trawick, also of this city.

Among the comprehensive reports given of the past year's work, those of Mrs. F. L. Austin, retiring literature secretary, and Mrs. J. Wiley Harris, secretary of the local Baptist Women's society, were both concise and extremely interesting to everyone.

Indeed Santa Ana workers occupied a very prominent place on the program and hence it was fitting that to Mrs. M. M. Holmes should be delegated the pleasant duty of welcoming the new churches to membership in the association.

The inspiring day reached its climax during the election of officers during the final session when Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks received the recognition which her executive ability and pleasant personality had won by being returned to the presidency. Associated with her during the coming year will be Miss Avis Knowlton of Fullerton, first vice president; Mrs. D. G. Maltby, Anaheim, second vice president; Mrs. Ada Vandegrift, Downey, treasurer; Mrs. O. S. Catland, Santa Ana, secretary; Mrs. H. L. Colhurst, Whittier, secretary-director of association; Mrs. Louis Deardsley, Garden Grove, secretary of literature.

The Burketts Greet Friendly Group

One of the most charmingly appointed bridge parties of recent date was that given by Mrs. R. C. Burckett at her home, 2395 West Camille street. A profusion of roses, sweet peas and yellow daisies made a fairly-late setting for the group of players, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Andrews, and Dr. L. M. Pindell and Mrs. Pindell.

The interesting game resulted in high score for Mrs. Pindell and low for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey. A delicious two-course supper was served, and a radio program completed the evening's enjoyment.

Mid-Summer Nuptials Will Crown Romance Of Young Pair

An engagement secret was related to a little group of interested friends recently when their hostess, Miss Ruth C. Pietsch, told the news of her betrothal to O. Paul Jones at a merry party given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Pietsch, 719 South Parton street.

Guessing games offered a merry evening to the guests gathered in the pretty rose and sweet-pea adorned home. A general air of excitement prevailed because it was believed that Miss Pietsch might be going to tell the interesting secret. However the games progressed and the refreshment hour arrived, and still nothing developed.

So when the hostess ushered her guests to the dining-room and they saw a table charmingly centered with a huge rose from whose fluted petals radiated pink ribbons to each place, all were sure the secret would soon be out. But when the ribbon were drawn, they yielded dainty favors for each one—but nothing else.

Nut-bread sandwiches, salad and coffee were served, followed by ice cream and cake, and as the guests enjoyed the salted almonds which pretty pink cases contained, they finally discovered the sweetest nut of all—the small white card in the bottom of each case, which announced the engagement. No date was named for the marriage but the hostess admitted that it would be a mid-summer event.

The romance developed at the Gerrard east end market where Miss Pietsch has been employed and where Mr. Jones is manager of the fruit department. The guests were the young women of the store and the wives of employees and included in addition to Mrs. A. W. Gerrard, wife of the proprietor, Mesdames J. B. Smith, M. D. Haskell, Cecil May, May Wilkinson, W. Scates, Hazel Riggs, Arthur Montgomery, Jesse Morrison, Roland Pickhardt, W. E. Pritchard, and the Misses Louise McGowan, Vera Mae Smith and Grace Haskell.

Co-Hostesses at Club Meeting

Mrs. V. Vinzant and Mrs. Hemsley entertained the Idle Hour club at their home in Santa Ana last Wednesday afternoon. The members held the regular business meeting and later devoted their time to games and needlework.

Honor and consolation prizes were awarded to Miss Peggy Carson, when the members pleasantly surprised her with a towel shower. Delicious refreshments were served to a late hour. The guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Heath of Santa Ana.

Home Builders' Class

On Monday night at 8 o'clock, the Home Builders' class of the First M. E. church will meet at the church from which start will be made for Huntington Beach and the pleasures of a grunion hunt. A beach supper will be a part of the merry evening.

W. C. T. U.

Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the W. C. T. U. will meet in the First Presbyterian church where the annual flower mission day will be observed. Mrs. A. M. Leonard will direct the program and special music will be a feature.

NEW DRIVE ON GLARE LIGHTS IS PLANNED BY BUREAU CHIEF

State-wide Campaign to Be Launched In Efforts to Cope With Menace

ALL ADJUSTERS MUST TAKE OUT LICENSES

Check-up of Official Stations Will Be Made to Determine Qualifications

Will H. Marsh, chief of the motor vehicle division, is preparing to launch another state-wide campaign against headlights, according to information from his office at Sacramento.

It was announced that, as a preliminary to the campaign, the chief would require that all adjusters of motor vehicle headlights operating at the 1500 official testing stations in the state hereafter will be required to secure a license from the division before they will be permitted to make adjustments.

Marsh said this move is part of a general plan to rid the state of incompetent adjusters.

"We want men who are sure know how to adjust lights," the motor vehicle chief said, adding that inspectors of the division will at once begin a checkup of all stations for the purpose of determining if each station has a competent man for the purpose. The inspectors will give detailed instructions concerning the requirements of the law governing headlights.

The licenses will be issued without charge, but the adjuster will be required to satisfy the division as to his qualifications by a written application. Stations employing other than licensed adjusters will be cancelled from the official list and no person except a licensed adjuster will be permitted to issue headlight certificates. Certificates must show name and license number of adjuster.

Under the present law, a motorist arrested with improper headlights is required to secure a certificate from an official station showing his lights have been adjusted within five days after arrest. According to Marsh, instances have occurred where a motorist was rearrested almost immediately after securing his certificate, because the adjuster was incompetent.

"We will issue no license to an adjuster until we have determined that he knows his business," Marsh said.

WHOS WHO in Motordom

JOE FINLEY

The gentleman who is doing the juggling act in the above cartoon is Joe Finley, manager of the Reo Sales and Service company, Reo agent, located at 414-16 West Fifth street.

The sketch subject is a native of Kentucky. He came to Santa Ana four years ago, associating himself with H. H. Dale and company, at that time agent for the Packard and Reo.

Finley was in the automobile business in Kansas City for five years before coming to Santa Ana. While in the east, he handled the Reo. His long experience and intimate acquaintance with this product, is extremely valuable to the Reo buyer and owner. Previous to entering the automobile business, Finley was a dealer in tires and accessories.

He served with distinction during the World War. He was in the Sixth regiment, U. S. Marine corps, and saw active service at Chateau Thierry, Belleau Wood, St. Michel and the Argonne, and came through without being wounded. He is a member of a Masonic lodge in Kentucky and is identified with the Santa Ana Lions club.

His favorite sport is fishing. While admitting that his luck does not always hold good, his stories about the big ones that got away never fail.

LOCAL DEALERS TO ATTEND L. A. SALES SESSION

Leading Figures In Retail Field Will Give Talks at Auto Trades Congress

Dealers and auto tradesmen of Orange county expect to be present in large numbers at the Pacific Sales congress, to be held at the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles, on Monday, May 18, according to H. A. Shurgart, secretary of the Orange County Automobile Trades association.

Writing the secretary of the approaching meeting, C. A. Vane, general manager of the National Automobile Dealers' association, who will discuss the dealer situation in the keynote address at the meeting, says that greater stability was attained in the automobile ranks in the last 12 months than in any other years in the history of the business.

Vane also advised that a complete program of dealer aids will be presented by leading figures in the retail field, who will come from the east solely for this meeting and for the one to be held in San Francisco on May 20.

Handling Used Cars

"The improved dealer method of handling used automobiles all over the country was a powerful factor in imparting stability to the dealer industry," Vane said. "In September, 1924, for the first time since the 'used car problem' became acute, a majority of automobile dealers reporting to the National Automobile Dealers' association stated they were buying used cars for less than their retail price. This was a reversal of former conditions. Thousands of automobile dealer failures in the last five years have been caused by over-allowances on used cars."

"While there was a net loss of 5000 in the dealer population of the country between September, 1923, and September, 1924, this is not a condition that need alarm the public. There will be even further reductions in the survivors during 1925 and it is estimated that the number of dealers could be reduced to 40 per cent more, or approximately 25,000, and the public would still be amply provided with facilities for purchasing automotive transportation."

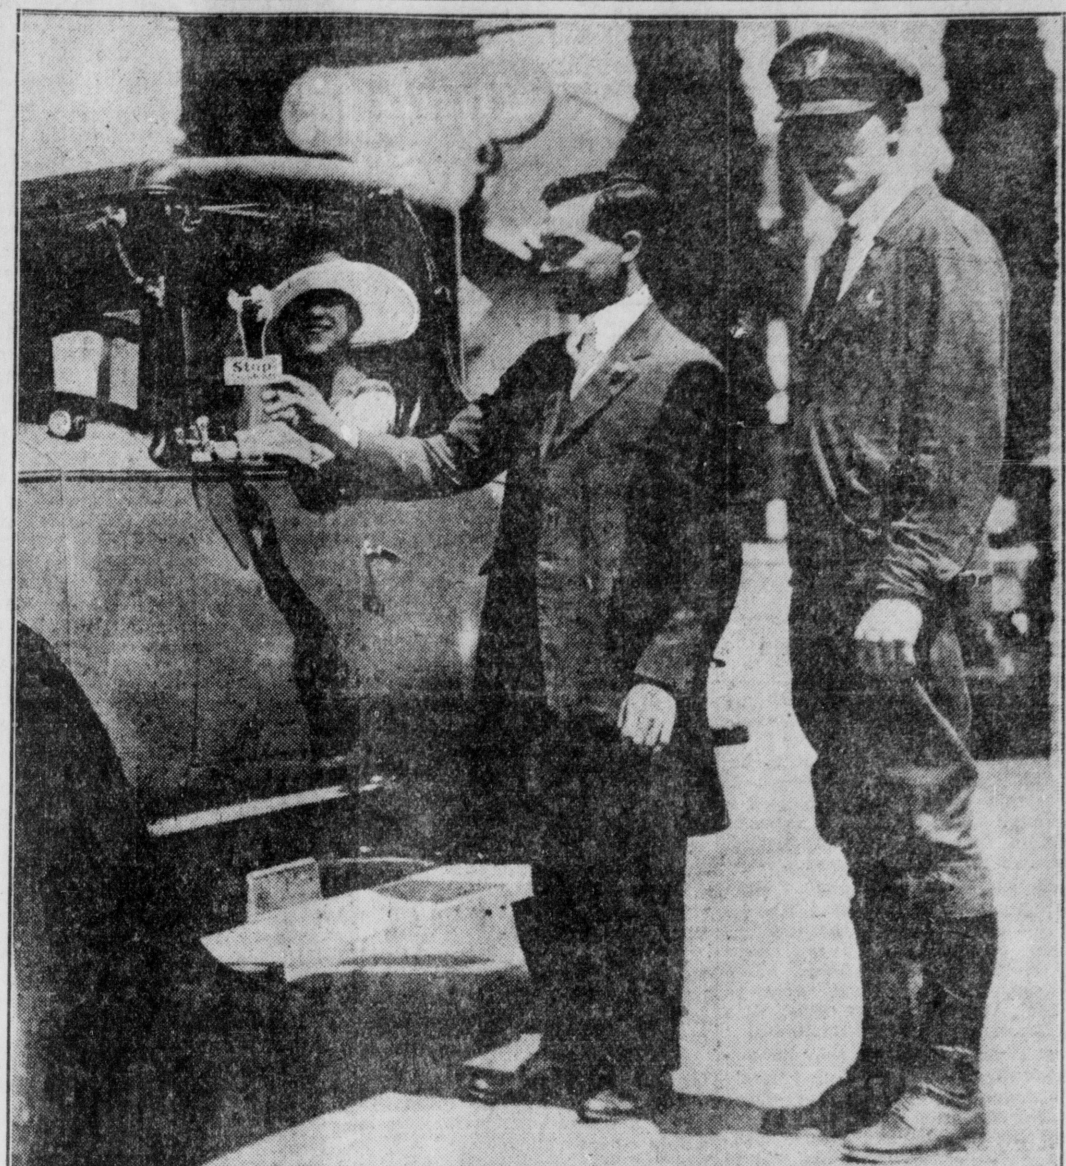

Closed Cars in Demand
"Other factors that contributed to making 1924 a year of stability were the increasing demands for closed cars, making it a more nearly all-season business, and the increase in replacement vehicles."

Others who will be on the Pacific Sales congress programs will be Edward Payton, of Cleveland, considered leading retail sales authority of the industry; W. B. Burruss, sales consultant of the national association, remembered on the Pacific coast for his dramatic merchandising talk, "Shakespeare the Salesman," and Harry M. Fancher, of Denver, treasurer of Tom Bortell, Inc., Hudson-Essex distributor. Payton will discuss the retail sales plan; Shaw the profit possibilities of departmentalized business; Burruss the dealer's responsibility to his salesmen, and Fancher, budget and chart control for profit.

FAIR MOTORIST, JUDGE AND TRAFFIC COP INDORSE WALT-SKEEZIX SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Enter "Uncle Walt" and "Little Skeezix" as assistants in a campaign to stop accidents. Here we have Kenneth Morrison, well known justice of the peace of Santa Ana township, and the nemesis of speeders, showing Miss Elsie Fluor how to paste an "Uncle Walt" and "Skeezix" stop accident stickers on a wind wing of a Studebaker roadster. Ray Bradfield, one of the state's efficient motorcycle officers working with the Orange county motorcycle squad, evidences his approval of the safety move. The stickers are being distributed free by C. L. Newport, of the Baked Enamel company, 417 West Fifth street.

ANNOUNCE CUT IN BATTERY PRICES

Completion of reorganization of its merchandising machinery and application of the resulting sales economy to a flat reduction in the price of automobile batteries is the subject of an announcement just made by R. J. Hoffman, vice president of The Prest-O-Lite company, according to M. S. Robinson, local dealer.

"The movement to sell direct to the motorists, through the Prest-O-Lite retailer, instead of using the factory-jobber-distributor-retailer route to the user of its starting and lighting batteries, was begun by the company last August, and the reorganization of the entire sales machinery is now effective throughout the country," Robinson said.

"This is one of the most drastic merchandising plan reorganizations that has been undertaken in the automotive field."

The reduction in the retail price made possible by the Prest-O-Lite sales reorganization totals approximately 25 per cent, and applies to every type of starting and lighting battery manufactured by the company. At the same time, the complete Prest-O-Lite service is being maintained throughout the country.

2000 LICENSE PLATES AWAIT AUTO OWNERS

Failure of a large number of California motorists to receive their 1925 license plates is ascribed by the division of motor vehicles, to the fact that many either give wrong addresses or furnish inadequate information in their inquiries.

The division has about 2000 unclaimed sets of plates on hand, it was stated, and the records reveal, almost invariably, that the owners gave wrong information.

Before writing about plates, motorists are advised to determine if the check sent as a fee has been cashed. If so, the cancelled check will show the number assigned to the motorist and that number should be mentioned in making inquiries.

If the check has not been cashed, the motorist should draw a duplicate. A proper showing that the application was made during the renewal period, accompanied by an affidavit, will assist the motorist in avoiding a penalty. If cash was sent, the motorist should so state, as it can be checked from fee slips in the department.

Justice Morrison Heartily Approves of Move to Curb Mishaps

"Any movement that will tend to decrease automobile accidents in Orange county is worthy of the support of every automobile owner and driver in the county."

With this declaration, Kenneth E. Morrison, justice of the peace for Santa Ana township, today gave his approval to a campaign to stop accidents, instituted by C. L. Newport, of the Baked Enamel company, 417 West Fifth street.

"Uncle Walt and Skeezix," a feature in the "funnies" have been brought to the front to aid in reminding drivers to be careful.

"Stop accidents" is featured in large stickers of the characters. The stickers are being placed on windshields and wind wings as reminders to the drivers that it pays to be careful and that accidents can be avoided by the exercise of proper judgment in handling automobiles.

"We have several thousand Walt and Skeezix stop accident stickers, and we wish for them following their first introduction here. They warranted us in ordering 10,000 more," Newport said, in announcing that the pasters are free for the asking and may be had on application at his office.

The stickers are seen daily on hundreds of cars driving in this vicinity, and it is expected that within the next week there will be few cars here that do not display the warning signs.

The characters are popular with children and many kiddies are making demands for the stickers.

LAKE TAHOE ROADS WILL SOON BE OPEN

The Placerville route to Lake Tahoe is still closed, according to the touring bureau of the National Automobile club. The road is open, however, to a point just beyond the town of Strawberry, and chains are not necessary as far as this point.

Work is progressing on the road between Placerville and Strawberry. The snow is reported to be melting rapidly, although there are four feet on the summit. The date of the opening of the road to the lake is indefinite, on account of present weather conditions.

On the Auburn route, the road is open as far as Emigrant Gap and chains are not necessary up to this point. Scrapers are at work on the road between Colfax and Dutch Flat, and above Dutch Flat the surface is slightly rough on account of road work in progress. The Auburn route will open about the middle of May.

Will Let Work Soon for Coast Section

According to Nel T. Edwards, of Orange, member of the state highway commission, the commission within the next six weeks will let a contract for surfacing with gravel or other surfacing material the section of coast highway between Balboa Palisades and Laguna Beach.

The boulevard is now open and is being used extensively by motorists. The roadbed is in fair condition, but is very dusty at some points.

Opening of this section makes the entire coast line of Orange county available to motor travel. The boulevard is paved from Long Beach to Newport and a dirt road continues from Newport to connect with the paved highway at Serra, below Capistrano.

SAMSON TIRE COMPANY GETS STATE ORDER

According to advices received today by Jess Goodman from W. C. McMillin, purchasing agent of the state of California, the Samson Tire and Rubber corporation, of Los Angeles, has just been awarded the contract for furnishing tires and tubes for all the passenger cars in the state's great fleet of automobiles, for the coming year.

"A. Schleicher, founder and president of the company, in speaking of the award, expressed particular satisfaction that a California home industry should again receive the California state contract, and recalls that a comparatively short time ago, when the state contract was first awarded to the Samson Tire and Rubber corporation, that it was the first time that a Pacific Coast manufacturer had been successful in acquiring this business, and keeping it on the Pacific coast." Goodman said.

"To again be successful in obtaining this award speaks well for this home-grown industry, and its product."

"Practically every large tire manufacturer in the United States is in competition for this contract, and the Samson company justly feels that it is a distinct tribute to its organization for the service and mileage value that Samson cords are delivering to Pacific coast motorists."

Notwithstanding the fact that shipments from the Reo Motor Car company during the month of March established a new record, this veteran manufacturing company again exceeded all previously set figures with its shipments for April, according to Joe Finley, of the Reo Sales and Service company, Reo agent. April is now going down in the books as the greatest month in the history of Reo sales.

March, 1925, and May, 1923, are recorded in order as the next two largest months in Reo history," Finley said. "The largest April prior to 1925 was enjoyed in 1917, but shipments for the month just closed were more than 10 per cent higher than in April, 1917."

"During all of 1924, April was one of Reo's outstanding months, but April, 1925, was 15.9 per cent above April of last year."

LOCAL FIRM GETS BRIDGE CONTRACT

Construction of a reinforced concrete bridge over San Gabriel river, on the Whittier boulevard, was included in a number of contracts awarded Monday by the state highway commission at its meeting at San Francisco. The contract was awarded to F. W. Steffen, San Diego, for $97,575.20. The commission made awards totalling approximately $1,000,000, the largest highway sum voted so far this year. With the exception of the bridge across San Onofre creek, in San Diego county, just over the Orange county line, all of the improvements will be paid out of the gasoline tax fund.

The contract for the bridge was awarded to the Fluor Construction company, of this city, the company's bid being $55,215.25, and the state will be reimbursed by San Diego county.

TRUCK DRIVERS GET PALM FOR KEEPING RIGHT SIDE OF ROAD

U. S. Bureau Gives Credit To Operators of Big Vehicles As Rule Observers

TENDENCY IS SEEN TO SACRIFICE CLEARANCE

Eighteen Feet Is Estimated To Be Safest Minimum For Auto Highways

By HORACE FINE
(Automobile Editor of Register)
Truck drivers are the "gentlemen" of the highway, in the point of sticking to the right side of the highway, according to observations made by the U. S. bureau of public roads.

I believe that observations on local roads will support the findings of the bureau, for it is true that truck drivers stay to their side of the road better than does the majority of drivers of automobiles.

Big Trucks Unpopular.
And yet the men who handle the wheels of the big load bearers are very unpopular with motorists. I should qualify that by saying that the men, personally, are not unpopular, but that their big machines are in disfavor. When a big machine gets into a line of traffic, it slows down speed and motor drivers swear under their breath and curse the driver. But that isn't fair to the truck drivers for they do stick to their side of the road and they do maintain distance between each other that makes it possible for a motor car to dodge in between them when necessity arises.

It was the observation of the bureau that truck drivers drive a foot closer to the edge of the pavement than do the motor car drivers.

It was found that few automobile drivers prefer a position closer to the edge than two and one-half feet, and that on meeting other cars the average driver will sacrifice clearance rather than drive closer to the edge than he instinctively feels to be safe.

The bureau reports that 18 feet was found to be the minimum width of roadway which will permit passenger vehicles and trucks driven in the preferential positions to pass safely and with a reasonable amount of clearance. This, the bureau says, will allow a distance of 2.7 feet between the outer wheel and the edge of the road for automobiles and 1.8 feet for trucks, with 1.9 feet clearance between vehicles.

One of the interesting points brought out by the bureau observations was that on curves there is a general tendency on the part of drivers of all type of vehicles to shift to the inside of the curve, particularly by the traffic moving on the outside. Improper banking of the road surface, poor shoulders and steep embankments on the outside of the curve all tend to make drivers crowd to the inside. It was shown that white or black lines in the center of the road were very effective in keeping traffic in its proper channel.

Madge Bellamy and James Kirkwood in a scene from "Secrets of the Night," picture showing at Walker's theater tomorrow.

SUNDAY'S ATTRACTIONS
WALKER — Vaudeville (five acts) and "Secrets of the Night," with James Kirkwood and Madge Bellamy.

TEMPLE — "Learning to Love," with Constance Talmadge.
WEST END — "The Spaniard," with Ricardo Cortez.
YOST — Vaudeville (five acts) and "Bad Company," with Conway Tearle.

"SECRETS OF THE NIGHT" AT WALKER'S SUNDAY

Mystery, comedy and impending tragedy are combined in "Secrets of the Night," which will be shown at Walker's theater beginning tomorrow. The result is a motion picture that promises a melange of entertainment features seldom found in one production, according to pre-view notices.

James Kirkwood and Madge Bellamy are the featured players in an all star cast that includes other favorites, such as Zazu Pitts, Rosemary Theby, Tom Wilson, Tom Ricketts, Tom S. Guise, Arthur Stewart Hull, Otto Hoffman and Joseph Singleton.

The story reveals the strange circumstances that accompany the endeavors of a bank president to conceal from a bank examiner the fact that he has loaned $500,000 on security which appears to be worthless.

In furtherance of his plan to delay investigation, the bank president invites the examiner to a house party, which is attended by a number of persons, including the bank directors and their wives.

Throughout the first night of the party, strange things happen, including a supposed murder, quarrels between persons who should love each other and various other unexplainable mischances.

The unexplainable is explained, however, and it is found out that all the worry and desperation was unnecessary.

FIVE ACTS OF VAUDEVILLE AT WALKER SUNDAY

For Sunday Manager Walker of Walker's theater offers another high class vaudeville bill of five acts.

Opening the bill are Joe and Mary Sells, direct from the circus arena where they have played with all the biggest shows. Comedy and a little talk make the offering different from the usual.

Glen Runyan, who styles himself "The Irish Tenor," keeps the audience in an uproar with his humorous songs and stories. He possesses a very pleasing voice and has the ability of delivering stories in a most agreeable manner.

The Mack Long trio has played all the leading circuits of America, and is noted for its pep and speed. They present a new act this season and have all special material and songs. Their dancing is, as always, all pep. Special scenery.

Charles Norman and Lorraine Landee have a keen sense of satire which affords a delightful relish of the domestic sort. This is called "Don't Rush Me" and has to do with the protests of a prospective groom to hasty matrimony. Norman and Landee for several seasons were with Valeska Sarratt.

Closing the bill is "Puzzle's Revue of 1925." A five piece jazz orchestra is a feature. Gorgeous wardrobe, beautiful costumes and girls are said to make this act one of the prettiest yet seen on the vaudeville stage.

"CODE OF THE WEST" TO CLOSE TONIGHT
Flapperism comes in for a sound spanking and jazz receives a knock-out blow in "Code of the West," which closes tonight at the West End.

The direct and drastic methods of the West were never better illustrated than in this absorbing photoplay in which a sturdy son of Arizona teaches a flapper daughter of New York the a-b-c of living and loving.

Pictured against marvelous natural backgrounds and abounding in breath-taking thrills, "Code of the West" unfolds its vivid, appealing story of the romance of George May Stockwell, a frivolous little flapper, and Cal Thurman, a sturdy, virile cowboy.

Owen Moore has the strong role of the cowboy-caveman, and Constance Bennett gives a good account of herself as the flighty, flirty flapper. Others in the cast are Mabel Ballin, Charles Ogie and David Butler.

"THE SPANIARD" OPENS AT WEST END SUNDAY

Ricardo Cortez, Jetta Goudal and Noah Beery are featured in the leading roles of "The Spaniard," which opens at the West End theater Sunday.

"The Spaniard" is a story of the taming of a beautiful flirt by a young bull-fighter who turns out to be a Spanish nobleman. It is a tale of love and daring; a high hearted romance against a background of Spain's national sport.

During a visit to London, Don Pedro, The Spaniard, loses his heart to the beautiful English society girl, Dolores Annesley, played by Miss Goudal, whose reputation as a heart-breaker rivals his own.

It is Dolores' custom to play at taming in love for time, and then when she tires of her latest conquest to toss him aside—and so on to the next. But she meets her master in The Spaniard.

From England, we follow the pair to Seville, where Dolores first becomes aware that the hero of her latest love affair is but a common bull-fighter. She is furious, and he carries her away to an isolated castle in the mountains where she has time to think over things in general and finally confesses her love for him.

Next morning they prepare to go to town to be married, but the girl streaks off down the road on her mount with Don Pedro in close pursuit. Again she had only been playing at love waiting for the opportunity to escape.

Now it is The Spaniard's chance to get furious. The chase leads him across fields and streams, high into the mountains into a bandit's den and—what?

COMEDY FEATURES YOST VAUDEVILLE BILL

Miles, Rhea and Santora will headline the Sunday and Monday bill at the Yost theater. Five people compose this feature, which is a varied act on a varied program, dancing, acrobatics and violin playing parts in a distinct novelty.

Wilson and Ardell, one of vaudeville's versatile couples, come in "Golf." Cook, Lemont and Jones are a melody trio who will entertain in pleasing fashion. A revue and a roller skating act will provide amusement and thrills.

"BAD COMPANY" DUE AT YOST TOMORROW

What would you do if someone near and dear to you was in danger of "Bad Company"? If you would know what Conway Tearle and Madge Kennedy would do under these circumstances by all means see the picture of that title which is now showing at the Yost theater Sunday and Monday.

Madge Kennedy's brother, portrayed by Charles Emmett Mack, is in danger of being drawn into the clutches of a bad woman who seeks only his wealth. The girl who is a big Broadway stage star sets out to save him. The man she it as "open territory" and stated that there were no rules to regulate the speed limit there.

Saw Death Car

Calvin L. McClung, Santa Ana man, who was driving one of the automobiles approaching the track from the east side, said he stopped his car at the sound of the whistle and waited for the car to pass; that he saw the death car coming at a rapid rate of speed and that the driver seemed to be unaware that he was approaching a crossing or that an electric car was nearby. He said he did not see the car swerve to the right or left at the crossing, which suggested to him that the driver did not see the train.

Testimony of W. H. Pottridge, 2417 East Fifth street, Long Beach driver of the second car on the east side of the tracks, was virtually the same as that of McClung. He said that he was of the opinion the motorman did not throw on his emergency brakes before he struck the automobile and that he saw no slackening of the speed of the Pacific Electric car until after the automobile had been struck.

The conductor testified the electric car was making approximately 40 miles an hour.

Saw Car Too Late

Eugene C. Haines, father of Marjorie and Allene Haines, two of the girls in the car, testified that Allene had told him that, as the automobile ran up to the tracks, she ejaculated "Look out, there's a car."

She said that they were struck immediately after the words were uttered.

Allene escaped with a compound fracture of the arm, and minor cuts and bruises.

Two of the victims of the crash will be buried Monday afternoon. Services for Willie L. Bloomer will be held from the Ellis funeral parlors, at Orange, at 2:30 Monday, with burial in Fairhaven cemetery. Funeral rites for Glenn Richards, the Santa Ana boy victim, will take place at 2:30 p. m. Monday, from the Winbiger Mission funeral home. Burial will also be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

The body of Raymond Kemp, was taken to Glendora at noon today. Burial was to have been made there this afternoon.

sible to obtain action on the condemnation suits until after the bond issue.

Stanley told the ranchers that he had asked Z. B. West Jr., Santa Ana city attorney, to talk to them last night, but that the attorney had replied that he had nothing to say until after the summons had been served, which would be within another 10 days or two weeks. A motion then was passed to have West address the June meeting of the organization.

NEW YORK—Official report of the investigation into the charges that Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola had demanded $1500 to appear at the Drake Relay carnival is expected this afternoon from F. W. Rubien, secretary of the A. A. U. Rubien examined Nurmi, Ritola and Hugo Quist, their manager, yesterday, but he would not issue any statement other than that Nurmi had been given permission to compete in a meet today at Fitchburg, Mass., and in another meet Monday at Worcester, Mass.

CITRUS FIRM BUYS GRAHAM TRUCKS TO HAUL PRODUCTS

One of the two Graham Brothers trucks recently purchased from O. A. Haley, Inc., local dealer for Dodge Brothers automobiles and Graham trucks, by the Irvine Citrus association for hauling citrus fruit from the field to packing houses, and for other uses. The two machines handle all the product of 549 acres.

According to H. E. Grebe, sales manager for O. A. Haley, Inc., local dealer for Dodge Brothers automobiles and Graham trucks, two Graham Brothers trucks, two Graham Brothers are meeting the full requirements of the Irvine Citrus association for transporting citrus fruits from the field to its two packing houses.

The five members of the association control 549 acres of citrus fruits and the organization last year shipped 430 cars of oranges and lemons.

Grebe says official figures from Detroit for the first quarter of 1925 show that Graham Brothers rank first in the world in the production and sale of 1½-ton trucks.

"In the 1-ton and 1½-ton truck fields combined they were surpassed in volume only by Ford," Grebe said. "This information may be surprising to the general public, but is not to those who are familiar with the performance of Graham trucks and with their rapid ascendancy in the industry during the last three years. Their advance has been without ostentation. There has been no blare of trumpets, no exaggerated claims. It has been a steady, wholesome growth, based entirely upon the truck's performance.

"Less than three years ago Graham Brothers were in twentieth position. Now they are manufacturing trucks at the rate of over 100 a day, marketing their entire output through Dodge Brothers dealers. This sales and service advantage of a strong dealer organization, combined with the exceptional merit of the truck itself, is regarded as one of the chief reasons for the rapid advance to leadership."

The Song of the Dying Battery

Ca-chunk!
I can't turn it over...
I am getting weaker and weaker...
Dying from your neglect...
ME, that fine, strong battery, you paid $22.50 for last winter...
Now you will have to crank it yourself...
The motor that needs oil and is stiff as a board...
You will crank until your arm drops off...
I wish your insulation would fall to pieces...
Your acid go bad...
Your plates wear out...
Then you'd know how I feel...
You let me go without water...
You drove me for hours until I overcharged...
You let that eleven-year-old brat of yours drive the car...
All over the yard...
On the starter...
And thought it was cute...
Yes, CUTE!
You murdered me...
And now you curse me...
For my poor dead cells...
Well, spin it a while yourself...
And see how you like it...
Ca-chunk!

The Club Sedan

This Built-in Quality Means Lower Costs of Operation

The fast-increasing number of new good Maxwell cars on the streets is causing widespread comment. It is a perfectly logical happening, for no other four delivers the Maxwell combination of 58 miles an hour, 5 to 25 miles in 8 seconds, and 25 miles to a gallon of gasoline.

But there are still greater satisfactions for the Maxwell owner. The car is completely manufactured within its own great plants. This is an advantage of genuine importance to the buyer. In no other way could you be assured of the quality that distinguishes the new good Maxwell from all other fours.

It is this high quality that accounts very largely for the dependable nature of Maxwell performance, the car's durability and, above all, costs of operation and maintenance so low as to create a new standard of economy.

We are always eager to demonstrate the new good Maxwell, for a ride in the car proves at once that it offers more fine motoring than was ever before available at the price.

NEWPORT PLANS MARKER BUOYS AROUND HARBOR

Complete marking of the Newport bay area with U. S. standard markers, buoys, etc., was recommended by Capt. H. W. Rhodes, of San Francisco, superintendent of lighthouses on the Pacific coast, following an inspection trip to the harbor, it was announced today by Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor commission.

At the same time, Captain Rhodes promised material assistance in the work of marking both the entrance and the inside channels of the county harbor.

The officer was accompanied on his trip over the bay by George P. Wilson, H. C. Sloan, L. W. Briggs, Assistant Harbor Master Spofford, Stanley Visel, Antar Deraga and Welch.

"We plan to have the marking work done under supervision of Captain Rhodes, as this will insure its being carried out on regulation U. S. department methods," Welch said.

"The city of Newport Beach will bear part of the expense and will carry out its share of the work under plans to be made by Rhodes after he has decided the best places for the different guides, beacons and other markers."

"In view of the probable early opening up of the entrance to Newport bay by the Orange county harbor commission, plans for the work to be done now under Rhodes' supervision will consider the features recommended by General Beach and the harbor commission."

"General Beach has been in communication with Rhodes and will cooperate in this work when necessary. Early repair of the west jetty must be made if the present lights on the jetty are to be maintained and Rhodes is willing to go as far as his office will permit in assisting the proper officials of the city of Newport Beach and Orange county in placing such markers as may be necessary to make the bay as safe as possible for entering and departing boats."

RICHFIELD GAS IS USED BY WINNERS

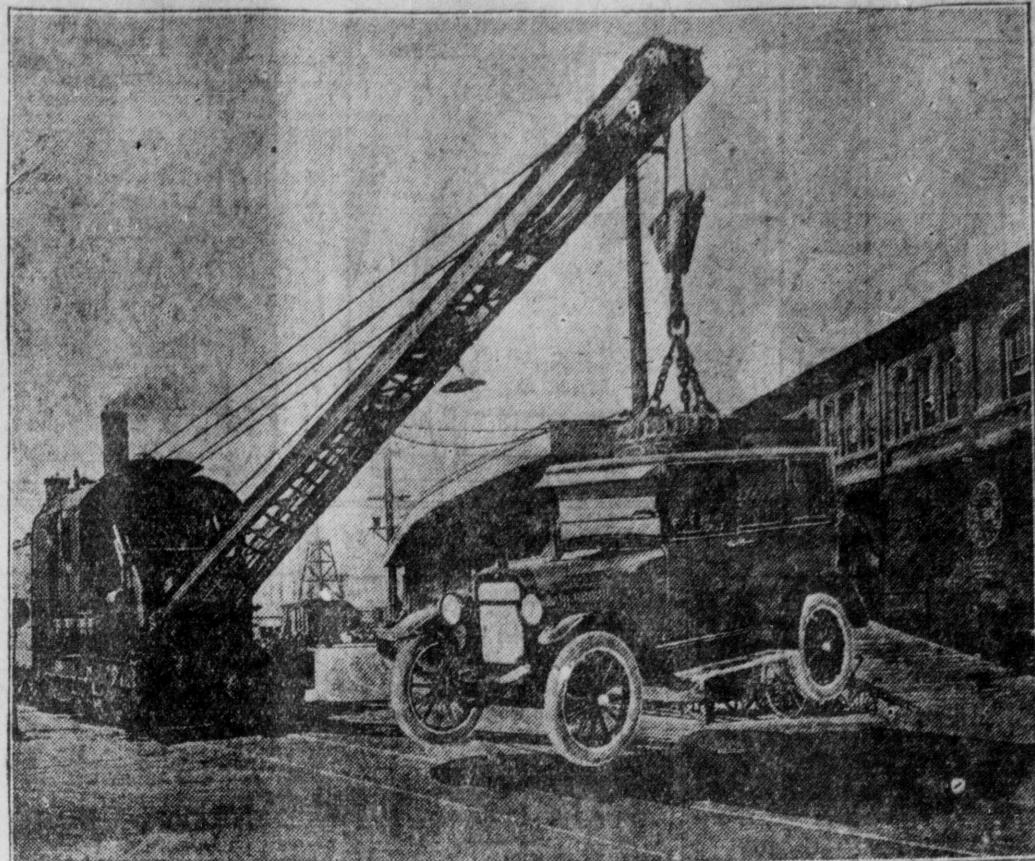

According to local retailers of Richfield gasoline and Richlube motor oils, members of the motor car speed sport fraternity today continued to express amazement at the practically unbroken string of victories Richfield gasoline and Richlube motor oils have been piling up on the speedways.

They say it was one-two-three, as far as Richfield figured in the recent races at Fresno, for Peter De Paolo, first; Tommy Milton, second, and Leon Duray, third, the three sweeping into the money on power supplied by the celebrated "gasoline of power."

Incidentally, Fresno is the only track in California on which Richfield ever failed to win a championship event, a single race there on Sept. 30, 1922, won by another make, being the only event to mar the otherwise unbroken series of smashing victories.

USE ELECTRO-MAGNETIC CRANE TO LIFT CARS

Marking back to schooldays when pocket magnets were the rage, Willys-Overland service men tried an experiment with the giant crane magnet of the Southern Pacific and found they could handle all-steel Overland cars from freight platform to warehouse in just a fourth the time they had been consuming. Instead of rolling the Overlands out on the freight cars by hand and then double-handling each car to get it down on the road, they swung each one handily down, set them in a line, tanked them up and kept things humming until the whole train was emptied and the warehouse filled.

J. P. Greeley of Balboa Marries Mrs. F. Beckwith

NEWPORT BEACH, May 9.—Slipping away last Monday on what he gave out as a "fishing trip," came the news today that J. P. Greeley, one of the best known citizens of Orange county, had been married at Sacramento, the bride being Mrs. Alma Beckwith, a charming and well known Balboa woman.

It was impossible today to learn where they are spending their honeymoon, but it is presumed that they are touring northern California.

Mr. Greeley is president of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce, vice president of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, president of the Bank of Balboa, general manager of the Balboa Pavilion and is identified with the leading lodges and organizations of southern California. Prior to coming here he was superintendent of the girls school at Whittier for many years under Governor Stevens.

Mr. Greeley has been connected with the civil service for many years and had been coming to this beach for nearly 20 years. He took up his permanent residence here a number of years ago. He is perhaps more widely known in southern California than any other one man.

Mrs. Greeley is a charming and lovely woman and the widow of the late Fred Beckwith, a pioneer and one of the foremost boosters of the beach. She is a member of the Ebell club, besides belonging to a number of other organizations.

The wedding will come as a surprise to everyone. The pair will be the recipient of the good wishes of their legion of friends when they return home.

SAYS PERFORMANCE IS NOT EVERYTHING

Performance is not everything to be considered when buying an automobile, according to D. W. Lantz, of Lantz brothers, Gardner dealers, Santa Ana. "Before buying an automobile," says Lantz, "the prospective purchaser, after satisfying himself as to what's in the car, should ascertain what's behind it."

"On this very important point the Gardner scores," continued Lantz. "It is the tremendous Gardner resources that have made this car and its wonderful performance possible. Moreover, these tremendous financial resources of the company are the purchaser's insurance that the car he buys is not likely to become an orphan."

"While the production of Gardner cars does not date back so many years, the business success of the company behind the car goes back to the old buggy-building days. The foundation of the great Gardner interests of today were laid then."

"In due time, along came the Gardner Four, bringing a lot of new distinction and wider fame to Gardner engineers. Now comes the Gardner Super Eight, and the superb new Gardner Six. These cars, and the factory behind them, are today as firmly rooted into the automotive field as is a huge live oak in the soil of Southern California."

ONLY ONE STATE IS WITHOUT GAS TAX

Last year, 13 states had not adopted the gasoline tax plan for construction of roads. In 1925, there is only one state left that has not passed or is not considering a gasoline tax law, according to a report issued by the engineering department of the National Automobile club.

Arkansas had a four-cent tax last year, the highest of all.

In 1925, four of the states have raised the gasoline tax to four cents and four other states have increased it to five cents. New York is the only state which clings to a one-cent tax.

The total amount collected last year from gasoline taxes in the United States amounted to $76,648,851. The amount to be collected under the revised levy will be in excess of $200,000,000. Road construction in the next two years will be one of the great progressive movements of the country.

DAY PURCHASES SERVICE STATION

Robert H. Day has purchased the service station at the northwest corner of First and Main street, according to announcement made today. The new proprietor said that four well known brands of gasoline would be handled—Pan-American, Associated, Hercules and Shell. The complete line of Pennzoil motor lubricants will be sold, together with other high-grade eastern and western oils. Day formerly operated the Four Drive service station located at El Portal and North Main streets.

Before You Buy Any Car Ask Yourself This Question

What am I going to get for my money? Here is how the 1925 Star answers your query:

1. Any man who will spend 30 minutes behind the wheel of the 1925 Star Car will get a new conception of real automotive value.
2. Go over this 1925 Star mechanically—compare it part for part with any other car near its cost. You will see quickly why the Star stands up in day-in-day-out service.
3. Check these value features which you can get only on the Star Car.
4. Estimate how little the 1925 Star Car costs. Beginning with the purchase price—in mechanical upkeep—and in gas and oil economy. The answer is value—far in excess of any car in its price class. You cannot buy any car to compare with the 1925 Star. It is the greatest automobile buy in the world!

A Star dealer near you has the car. Make the test for yourself—Now!

Our reputation goes with every car
we sell. Although it is an asset to us, we are not selling it. Car-like some well established firms, which, after they have acquired reputations, they simply square-dealing, and have gained the public's confidence, immediately increase their prices. Our policy is ordinarily, our policy is opposite.
We bring them down. We are selling "NOT PROMISES, but NEW USED AUTOMOBILES, put in the best shape possible regardless of cost, at prices that are always under the market. Look up our reputation. Increase our volume

S. A. NINE DEFEATS PASADENA, 13 TO 2

Billy Evans Says

EARL SANDE
Add Earl Sande to the list of comebacks.

Badly injured in a spill about eight months ago, it was predicted that America's premier jockey would never ride again.

It was feared that Sande's poor physical condition as a result of the accident would prove a serious handicap. It was also believed that that he would lack some of the courage that always featured his work.

Apparently Sande is fit physically and has lost none of his old-time nerve. In his first three starts he put over as many winners.

His best bit of work so far was winning the Dixie handicap on Saracen, from a good field. Saracen proved he could carry the weight.

Few jockeys are the equal of Sande in rating pace. That is where he has the edge.

In all probability several prominent turfmen who had an option on Sande's services and passed it up are mighty sorry.

WINTER BOOKS
Several years ago when Zev won the Kentucky derby he gave backers of the winter books an awful jolt.

As a matter of fact, Zev ruined a lot of bookie bankrolls. Incidentally, scores, perhaps hundreds of wagers made on Zev, remain still unpaid.

As a result of the Zev episode there has been little money bet in the winter books compared to other years.

It would have been a great con for the bookies this year, since Master Charlie and Stimulus, who would have been heavily played, are already out of the running. Quartrian, also much favored, is still a doubtful starter.

The failure to pay by a majority of the winter books when Zev won the Derby practically ruined the faith of the public in that form of betting.

"Vean Gregg should be a whole of a relief pitcher for us," remarked Manager Stanley Harris to me during the spring training trip.

"He still has plenty of stuff, and if given the proper rest and has his spots picked, should be a great help to my club."

Gregg has on three or four occasions already proved the wisdom of Harris judgment.

His work as a pinch hitter has been almost perfect. Recently, sent in a game against the Athletics with the bases filled and only one out, he fanned Welch and Simmons, two powerful right-handed hitters.

His relief pitching saved the game.

Twelve years ago Gregg was the best southpaw in the American league. He ranked close to the great Rube Waddell at his best.

UNIQUE THEORY
Bumped into Jack Hutchinson in Chicago recently. Jack is the wit of goldfom.

During the winter in Florida, and this spring he has been doing his best work in the first 18 holes, invariably slumping in the last 18 of every 36 hole match. He explains it by saying his clubs get to feel heavy.

Jack expressed the opinion that he intended having a heavier set of clubs made for morning play than afternoon. It is not unusual for players to claim the clubs get heavy to swing in the final holes of a 36-hole match.

Possibly Jack was only kidding, but for years ball players have adopted such a theory. That is why Ty Cobb always swings three bats as he walks to the plate. Throwing away two of them as he steps into the batter's box makes his regular bat feel extremely light.

It would be interesting if Jack would make a golf experiment of a theory that has always worked out in baseball.

Matty Taken Ill As Ball Season Opens; Returns to Saranac

Christy Matthews, famous pitcher of the Giants years ago and now president of the Boston National league club, is back at Saranac Lake convalescing from a heavy cold he caught at the opening game of the season. It was at the same resort that Matty made a great uphill fight for health two years ago. Entire fandom is pulling for his early recovery.

Piping 'Em Off

Yesterday's hero—Billy Southworth, New York outfielder, hit a homer with the bases filled and two out in the ninth inning and gave the Giants a 5 to 2 victory over the Cards.

The Yankees knocked Joe Bush out of the box while Shocker was holding fast and they beat the Browns, 12 to 0.

Sam Gray won his fifth straight game of the season when he pitched the Athletics to a 5 to 3 victory over the Indians. It was the first game that Uile has lost for Cleveland.

Lions' single in the eighth inning and an error by Muddy Ruel gave the White Sox the run that beat the Senators, 4 to 3. Leo Meadows was knocked out of the box in the first inning and the Phillies beat the Pirates, 15 to 7. Stock's single in the ninth inning scored the run that gave the Robins a 3 to 2 victory over the Reds.

Seven runs scored in the eighth inning when the Detroit pitchers blew up enabled the Red Sox to win, 15 to 7.

Loose pitching by Alexander helped the Braves to beat the Cubs, 5 to 2, in the first jubilee game of the season.

HITT PITCHES KIWANIS CLUB TEAM TO WIN

Shown the way by their youthful submarine ball phenom, Tommy Hitt, who allowed only three hits and fanned 16 batters, the Santa Ana Kiwanis played bangup indoor ball down at the Poly grounds last night and took into camp the Southern California Edison company team by a score of 6 to 1.

The Edison's have some of the most potent power-house hitters in the City league but they were made to look bad by young Hitt. Twenty-four batters faced the youngsters and only eight of those were able to even touch his offerings, the rest waving at thin air. Hitt walked but one stinker.

Ray Price, a newcomer, was on the range for the Pole-Climbers and though he showed the best change of pace any chucker has this season the Kiwanis batters were able to nick him for seven timely clouts.

Three home runs, the most made in a single game this year, gave the bugs a thrill. Kordner's smash in the first inning was the lone run scored by the Edison's. Ray Miles drilled a circuit knock to left with a runner on in the second and Willie Rash poked another Babe Ruth in the fifth. Carl Schultz smacked a single to right in the fifth and he negotiated all the bases while the Edison's were kicking the ball around the park. Schultz's shoestring catch on "Jug" Walter's line drive to right was easily the fielding feature of the evening.

The box score:

Kiwanis Club	Edison Co.
AB.R.H.	AB.R.H.
Cannon, 1f, 3 0 0	Walsh, 3f, 2 0 0
Doerr, c, 3 0 0	Swissheim, 3f, 3 0 0

200 PREP ATHLETES IN BIG STATE MEET

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. May 9.—Nearly 200 high school athletes were to meet this afternoon in the annual state track meet at Stanford stadium.

Squads from the south arrived yesterday and were quartered in Encina Hall, the men's dormitory, while their coaches are being entertained in various fraternity houses.

Northern California teams reached here this morning.

Manual Arts of Los Angeles was the winner last year with Hollywood second. Whether the Trojans will be able to repeat is uncertain.

Berkeley, Chico, Berkeleyfield, Riverside, San Diego, Inglewood, Manual Arts and Hollywood are some of the schools expected to enter strong teams in the meet.

LEAVES BIG ESTATE

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 9.—Edward J. McKeever, part owner of the Brooklyn National League baseball club, who died within a week of the death of Charles Ebbets, president of the club, left an estate of about $1,000,000, according to his will, filed for probate here. Mrs. McKeever was the principal beneficiary.

Taylor's Distilled Water Ice, Phone 916 for Yellow Water.

Thirty years ago this summer the national women's golf tournament was inaugurated. It was staged at the Meadowbrook Golf club, Reading, Mass.

Among the qualifiers that year was Mrs. Caleb F. Fox, of Philadelphia, an enthusiastic golfing devotee, 36 years of age.

Today, at 66, and a silver-haired grandmother, Mrs. Caleb F. Fox is still rated among the first 32 women golfers in the country.

Down through the years she has competed in each of the national tournaments and on every occasion has made a good showing.

In her 30 years of competition she has only failed four times to qualify. Once in 1911, again two years later and also in 1923 and 1924. In 1923 she suffered an injury just before the championship was held.

Mrs. Fox has never held the national title. But once she reached the final round only to fall before Miss Ruth Underhill, a sensational links-woman, 2 and 1. That was in 1899. In 1908 and 1909 she got as far as the semi-finals.

Mrs. Fox has won the Philadelphia championships five times—1902, 1908, 1910, 1911 and 1917. Two years ago she started the golfing fraternity by defeating Glenna Collett, then national champion, in a winter tournament at Bellair Heights, Fla.

Despite her 66 years, Mrs. Fox looks considerably younger. She is rather statuesque and robust. Her hair is gleaming white and no tournament of note is complete without her. She is exceedingly popular. And her advice is eagerly sought by many of the younger players.

Mrs. Fox's record in the golfing pastime is indeed unique. Her consistent play over a 30-year stretch no doubt ranks without parallel in the game. For that's quite a span in the sportive world.

Fields Conquers Joe Salas Again

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—Jackie Fields, former world's amateur featherweight champion, repeated two former wins over Joe Salas, at the Hollywood legion stadium.

Fields bled ten fast rounds. Fields winning six, Salas two and two were even.

Salas tried hard for a one-punch knockout, but Fields' cleverness carried him out of danger, and he pulled up a big lead on points.

MACKMEN REAL CONTENDER IN PENNANT RACE

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 9.—One game does not give an estimate of a baseball team's strength. Otherwise preponderance of strength in the major leagues could be said to be in the east after the first intersectional skirmishes of the season.

Seven of the eight games were won by eastern teams and the Chicago White Sox in downing the champion Washington Senators were the only western outfit to take the game.

The Philadelphia Athletics bumped the Cleveland Indians and went into first place in the American league with the assistance of the White Sox, who removed the Senators from a tie. It is plain now to close observers that the Athletics are going some place this year and are a very dangerous pennant contender.

After scouting around for 10 years, Connie Mack seems to have found at last a well balanced team of young players who can field and hit and who can think. It is a hustling young ball club that seems to have taken its boss very seriously when he predicted before the season started that he would win the pennant.

Mack said that he was depending on "Lefty" Groves, his $100,000 pitcher, to win 25 games but so far Groves has been the big bust of the season.

With some of the fighting spirit that has characterized the team all season, the New York Giants pulled a game out of the fire with a ninth inning rally that downed the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cincinnati Reds got off on the wrong foot and lost to the Robins but there is nothing serious in that. The Reds have a very good ball club and when Jack Hendricks gets his full strength in the field he will have a real dangerous contender.

KEITH LLOYD, STAR SPRINTER, ELIGIBLE

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—Keith Lloyd, University of Southern California's star sprinter, who was declared ineligible to run for his college on a slight technicality, was "okayed" today by the Pacific Coast conference.

This decision will permit Lloyd to run at the May 29-30 I. C. A. A. A. cinderpath classic at Philadelphia should that organization uphold the Pacific Coast ruling.

Yale Tennis Leader Among Best Players In College Circles

A. W. JONES

Here's the captain and star of the Yale University tennis team. He's rated one of the best in eastern college circles. With him as leader the Blue hopes for a successful year on the courts.

The annual "big game" with "Shorty" Smith and his league leading Fullerton Redlegs comes next week. Santa Ana still has a chance to finish near the top of the heap if it can beat Fullerton and Whittier in a play-off of the "big game" scheduled for next week. The Fullerton match will be played at Poly field Friday afternoon.

POWER PLANTS RUN BY GALES, BRITISH AIMS

LONDON, May 9.—Having failed to achieve any world-beating records in aerially racing the wind, John Bull is trying to harness the "blasted gale."

An "aeroplane" windmill invented by a Berlin scientist, Major Bilau, is the backbone of the effort. A specimen of this invention and four other types have been erected on the hilly ground near Harpenden in Hertfordshire, where the Oxford university institute of agricultural engineering has established a testing ground.

Englishmen have been so encouraged by the results of the experiments to date that they already have visions of huge economies and a brighter countryside, through the cheap generation of electricity.

It is believed that a windmill will eventually be capable of operating all of the plant of a large farm or of supplying all the needs of the average village—lighting the streets and houses, and, perhaps, running its "movie" house. After the installation, it is thought, the cost of operation will be almost nil. All the attention required will be the visit of a man with an oil can once a month.

The steel sails of the Bilau aerodyne are mounted on a stout post some 30 feet high. They give the appearance of a greatly magnified aeroplane propeller. The sails are so constructed that suction is brought into play to get every possible ounce of turning-power from the wind. As the sails revolve they set cogs in motion, which operate a dynamo contained in a balloon-like attachment behind the propeller. The current so generated is carried by wires to the power-station.

The testing-station officials have found a machine of the older type generates three-quarters of a kilowatt, with the wind blowing at 5 miles an hour. Under similar conditions, they say, the Bilau machine is apparently capable of registering at least five kilowatts, or roughly the equivalent of a 7-horse power motor.

Gift of Original Plane to British Stirs Scientists

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Charges made by Orville Wright in giving the Wright brothers' original plane to the Times museum at South Kensington, England, stirred scientists here who have watched the progress of aviation. Wright's assertions that museum officials had permitted the original Langley plane to "be mutilated for the purposes of private parties" and that neither of the restored nor the original machine, "brought a sharp rejoinder from Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, which has charge of the National museum."

Dr. Walcott denied that the Langley plane had been "mutilated" and voiced the opinion that the objection raised to the label placed on it grew out of its identification of the machine as "the first airplane capable of flight." Although slight alterations were made for the test flights in 1914, he said, the plane later was restored and is now "as nearly as humanly possible" like the original.

Dr. Walcott also refused to concede that the Wrights were the first to construct a heavier than air machine capable of flight, giving the credit to Langley.

PLAN UNIFORM SIGNS ON ALL THROUGH ROADS

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Motorists traveling on transcontinental highways will be warned of railroad crossing, treacherous curves and other danger points by signs pointed in bright yellow, if plans tentatively drafted by the joint board on interstate highways are adopted.

A system of uniform marking, routing and numbering of all interstate roadways was recommended by the board after its recent sessions here and announcement of the recommendations was made today by the department of agriculture, which is sponsoring the movement.

A complete draft of the recommendations has been forwarded to the highway control departments of all states for approval or amendatory suggestions. Regional meetings will be called at New York, San Francisco, Kansas City, Chicago, Atlanta and Boston during the next two months for the purpose of acting upon the board's proposals. Action taken at these meetings will be reviewed and correlated when the joint federal and state board meets again early in August.

Under the tentative plan adopted by the board all interstate roadways would be designated by numerous uniform markers in the form of shields with white backgrounds and upon which "U. S." would be lettered in black. Large numerals on the shields would identify the route.

Danger signs at all railroad crossings would be octagonal in shape and warn the traveler to stop. A diamond shaped sign would warn the driver to slow down, while a square sign would caution him to "look" or attention. Directional and informational signs would be rectangular in shape.

Colors tentatively adopted for nonluminous signs as yellow for warning and danger signs and white for directional and informational signs. All lettering would be in black.

For luminous and reflecting signs the colors tentatively agreed upon are red for danger, yellow for caution and green to indicate "go."

Will Ask Former Premier to Talk At Detroit Meet

NEW YORK, May 9.—On a mission to bring the religious organizations of the new and the old worlds into closer and more practical working relations for peace, Dr. Henry A. Atkinson is touring Europe. He is chief executive officer of the World Alliance for International Friendship, Universal Christian Conference on Life and Work, and also of the Church Peace Union.

While abroad he will extend his contacts to reach not only the Christian churches, but also the other leading religions of the world, in preparation for the International Peace Congress of the World's Religions, which will be held in Geneva, Switzerland, during August, 1925.

Dr. Atkinson said that on reaching London he will call on Ramsay MacDonald, and personally convey to the former prime minister an invitation to deliver the principal address at the tenth annual meeting of the American branch of the World Alliance, which will be held in Detroit, November 10, 11 and 12. He will then visit the various National Councils of the World Alliance in Europe, Egypt and Asia Minor in connection with the Universal Christian Conference, meeting in Stockholm the latter part of August.

Forestry Pupils Will Fight Fires

FOR COLLINS, Colo., May 9.—Forestry students of Colorado Agricultural college here have banded themselves into five firefighting squads, and announced their readiness to take the field at a moment's notice against any forest fire which may break out west of the continental divide between Denver and Wyoming. The firefighting students are receiving instruction from State Forester W. J. Morrill, and were equipped by the U. S. forest service.

Lowden Declares American Farmer Not Prosperous

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Taking a rap at optimists who report that agricultural conditions are greatly improved, former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois declares that farming conditions through the middle west are still much depressed.

"One reason is because the country does not realize the condition of the farmer," Lowden said, as he left the White House where he had called on President Coolidge.

"Some one is always finding something in a set of figures or in the commodity prices on which to base a story that farming conditions are vastly improved."

"But such is not the case. There is still too great a discrepancy between the prices the farmer receives and the price he has to pay for what he buys."

"Laws will help but they will not bring prosperity for the farmer," Mr. Lowden said. "The only real remedy for the farmer is better organization and co-operation."

Montreal Leads In Shipping of Grain

MONTREAL, P. Q., May 9.—Montreal was North America's greatest grain shipping point in 1924, with a new record of 165,139,396 bushels handled in that year, according to a shipping report of the Canadian Pacific railway.

In the first eleven months of last year Montreal handled 94,366,508 bushels more than New York, its nearest competitor, and 17,332,709 bushels more than New York, Galveston, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Boston and Norfolk, Va., combined.

OIL WORKERS WILL REORGANIZE UNION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 9.—Formation of a new oil workers' union here by a group of oil field employees, who were in a former union and which was disbanded, was announced today.

The disbanding of the former union here was caused by internal trouble in the organization and finally resulted in the cancellation of the charter.

Election of officers of the new organization will be held at the oil workers hall, which has been maintained by the workmen as a social meeting place, next Tuesday night.

P. T. A. SUPPER AT GROVE GARDEN GROVE, May 9.—The Parent-Teachers association of the Washington grammar school, will hold a pot-luck dinner at the school building Tuesday evening.

Purse Is Stolen As Car Parked In Front of Church

ORANGE, May 9.—"When you go to church don't leave your purse outside," declares Miss Minnie Schaffer, North Schaffer street, who reported to the police department here yesterday, the theft of a black pocketbook from an automobile parked in front of the Immanuel Lutheran church, Chapman avenue and Pine street.

Miss Schaffer was attending a program in the church, and when entering her car, upon leaving, she noted that the purse was missing. Whether or not the thief is the same one who recently looted the First Methodist Episcopal church collection box of $100, is a matter of conjecture.

The stolen pocketbook contained approximately $8 in cash, valuable papers and a number of other articles, according to Miss Schaffer.

WIDENING OF AVE. IS URGED BY REALTY MEN

FULLERTON, May 9.—A decided stand favoring Fullerton's widening of Commonwealth avenue this city to become a part of the proposed Manchester highway that is being projected across Los Angeles county was taken at yesterday's meeting of the local realty board.

The objections raised by certain property owners along the avenue who would lose considerable frontage by the proposed widening were considered but the increased valuation of property that, it is asserted, will result by Commonwealth being a part of the great proposed highway which will be a route paralleling the Santa Fe tracks west of the city and passing through Anaheim would be 2 miles shorter. It is only by decisive action, they agreed, that Fullerton will be considered in the matter.

In order to assist in the program locally they voted to ask permission to attend a meeting called by the Chamber of Commerce for next Thursday to which the property owners who will be affected have been invited.

The local realtors were strong in their opinion that Fullerton should act quickly in the matter as the possibility of this city being left out of the project is otherwise likely to result, inasmuch as a route paralleling the Santa Fe tracks west of the city and passing through Anaheim would be 2 miles shorter. It is only by decisive action, they agreed, that Fullerton will be considered in the matter.

In order to assist in the program locally they voted to ask permission to attend a meeting called by the Chamber of Commerce for next Thursday to which the property owners who will be affected have been invited.

Brea Sewer Bonds Are Up for Sale

BREA, May 10.—The $60,000 issue of sewer bonds voted at an election in January last will be sold at the next meeting of the Brea city council May 20, providing the bids are accepted. New bids on the paving of Cedar street paving will be received also at that time. It is probable that the other paving will be delayed until after the sewer is installed.

YOUNG GIRL DIES AT BREA BREA, May 9.—Funeral services were held today for Dorothy May Senn, seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Senn of this city, who passed away at her home late Thursday night. She is survived by her parents, four brothers, Fred B., U. N., Harry and Cary, and three sisters, Mrs. E. F. Ranbinger and Ethel and Eleanor Senn. Rev. Hornburg conducted the services and interment was made in Loma Vista cemetery.

Select Hill Top For Initiation Of Pythian Lodge

BREA, May 9.—The hilltop in the Chino canyon near Brea was the site selected for the sunrise initiation of the Knights of Pythias lodge to be held on the Fourth of July. The initiation is an annual affair, it being held at Catalina island last year. Lodges in this district namely Orange, Norwalk, Fullerton, Downey, Anaheim, Santa Ana, and Brea, will act as hosts for the day. All Southern California lodges will participate in the initiation ceremony. Prominent officers of the state lodge will be present, and will help out on the work. Preparations are being made to take care of the largest crowd that ever attended a sunrise initiation service.

ORANGE, May 9.—Announcement has been made by Orange Union high school officials, of the selection of the Misses Mary Bowyer and Pauline Snodgrass, respectively, as valedictorian and salutatorian, of this year's graduating class.

Miss Bowyer's average for the four years' work was 96.5, while Miss Snodgrass' average was 94. Paul Stoner, with 93.7-16, and Don Squires, with 93.2-16, were third and fourth, respectively, on their class honor roll.

The selection, this year, of the honor students, was made by a committee of students, under the direction of the faculty.

PERSONAL NOTES OF LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, May 9.—H. VanAlstine, one of America's most sought for interior decorators, who has settled in Laguna Beach because of the natural beauty of the place, has gone to San Francisco for the week of festival arranged by the Chinese merchants of the northern metropolis. Street parades, pageants, theatrical entertainments and other interesting things, a la China, have been thought out by the Chinese committee in charge of the affair. The week's pleasure is to be given to secure funds for the maintenance of the Chinese hospital in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. West motored into Los Angeles and saw the opening of the Woman's Athletic club of which Mrs. West is a member.

Jane Louise Underwood has returned from a trip to Palm Springs on the desert and to San Juan Capistrano Hot Springs. Many Laguna Beach folks seek out these two places for a bit of change from the ocean side.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gleiforst motored to Los Angeles and saw the week so that Mrs. Gleiforst could visit with her mother who lives in Sawtelle.

Miss Belle McCord Roberts motored down from Long Beach last Wednesday staying in her Laguna Beach cottage over the night.

The violin pupils of Miss Josephine Hills and the piano pupils of Mrs. Floyd Case are appearing in a recital at "The Studio" Wednesday evening, May 13, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Enoch Smith of Pasadena occupied her Arch Beach home for a few days.

Doctor and Mrs. Edward Howe of Riverside motored over for a week or so at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gresham, Mrs. V. Layton, Miss Ernestine Temple, Frederick Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Walter, all of Los Angeles, made up a party for Sunday to visit Otto J. Keefe and incidentally to get a look at some of the pictures that have been painted in Laguna Beach.

Mrs. L. L. Richardson, of Berkeley is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. N. Irons. Mrs. Irons is the widow of Brig. Gen. J. N. Irons, who was for so many years in the diplomatic service.

Carl Fricke and his sister, Louise Fricke of Pasadena, were guests in Laguna Beach this week. They came to see the artists and their works.

Dion Psolli, who registered from Albania, San Diego and Pasadena seems to have made home, than the ordinary individual owns.

Mrs. W. F. Johnston and Miss Geneva Johnston of Des Moines, Iowa, were Laguna Beach guests. Recent house guests at the beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sheridan Weadock were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bilas of Saginaw, Mich., and Los Angeles; Miss Katherine Cornwell of Saginaw, Mich., and Mrs. J. L. Sullivan and Miss Eleanor Lacey of Pasadena.

Russell Kelsch motored to San Francisco, taking with him his mother, Mrs. Raymond S. Kelsch of Montreal, Quebec, who has been visiting in Laguna Beach for some weeks.

Lodges in this district namely Orange, Norwalk, Fullerton, Downey, Anaheim, Santa Ana, and Brea, will act as hosts for the day. All Southern California lodges will participate in the initiation ceremony. Prominent officers of the state lodge will be present, and will help out on the work. Preparations are being made to take care of the largest crowd that ever attended a sunrise initiation service.

ORANGE, May 9.—Announcement has been made by Orange Union high school officials, of the selection of the Misses Mary Bowyer and Pauline Snodgrass, respectively, as valedictorian and salutatorian, of this year's graduating class.

Miss Bowyer's average for the four years' work was 96.5, while Miss Snodgrass' average was 94. Paul Stoner, with 93.7-16, and Don Squires, with 93.2-16, were third and fourth, respectively, on their class honor roll.

The selection, this year, of the honor students, was made by a committee of students, under the direction of the faculty.

PERSONAL NOTES OF LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, May 9.—H. VanAlstine, one of America's most sought for interior decorators, who has settled in Laguna Beach because of the natural beauty of the place, has gone to San Francisco for the week of festival arranged by the Chinese merchants of the northern metropolis. Street parades, pageants, theatrical entertainments and other interesting things, a la China, have been thought out by the Chinese committee in charge of the affair. The week's pleasure is to be given to secure funds for the maintenance of the Chinese hospital in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. West motored into Los Angeles and saw the opening of the Woman's Athletic club of which Mrs. West is a member.

Jane Louise Underwood has returned from a trip to Palm Springs on the desert and to San Juan Capistrano Hot Springs. Many Laguna Beach folks seek out these two places for a bit of change from the ocean side.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gleiforst motored to Los Angeles and saw the week so that Mrs. Gleiforst could visit with her mother who lives in Sawtelle.

Miss Belle McCord Roberts motored down from Long Beach last Wednesday staying in her Laguna Beach cottage over the night.

The violin pupils of Miss Josephine Hills and the piano pupils of Mrs. Floyd Case are appearing in a recital at "The Studio" Wednesday evening, May 13, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Enoch Smith of Pasadena occupied her Arch Beach home for a few days.

Doctor and Mrs. Edward Howe of Riverside motored over for a week or so at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gresham, Mrs. V. Layton, Miss Ernestine Temple, Frederick Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Walter, all of Los Angeles, made up a party for Sunday to visit Otto J. Keefe and incidentally to get a look at some of the pictures that have been painted in Laguna Beach.

Mrs. L. L. Richardson, of Berkeley is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. N. Irons. Mrs. Irons is the widow of Brig. Gen. J. N. Irons, who was for so many years in the diplomatic service.

Carl Fricke and his sister, Louise Fricke of Pasadena, were guests in Laguna Beach this week. They came to see the artists and their works.

Dion Psolli, who registered from Albania, San Diego and Pasadena seems to have made home, than the ordinary individual owns.

Mrs. W. F. Johnston and Miss Geneva Johnston of Des Moines, Iowa, were Laguna Beach guests. Recent house guests at the beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sheridan Weadock were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bilas of Saginaw, Mich., and Los Angeles; Miss Katherine Cornwell of Saginaw, Mich., and Mrs. J. L. Sullivan and Miss Eleanor Lacey of Pasadena.

Russell Kelsch motored to San Francisco, taking with him his mother, Mrs. Raymond S. Kelsch of Montreal, Quebec, who has been visiting in Laguna Beach for some weeks.

FORTY-SIX TO GRADUATE FROM BEACH SCHOOL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 9.—Forty-six students will graduate from the local high school this year, according to announcement made at the school yesterday. The graduation exercises this year will be held June 18 at the high school. Numbered among the graduates will be a number of excellent high school athletes and also a number of students who have become well known throughout the county in debating and forensic contests. The class is one of the largest to graduate from the school during the past several years.

Robert White has been chosen valedictorian of the graduating class this year. Miss Ethel Langston is the salutatorian. Both of the young people, besides winning highest honors in scholarship in their class have been very prominent in school activities. White was a member of the football squad, and the student body treasurer. Miss Langston is the president of the Girls' league, was a member of the debating team, won second place in the Constitutional Oratorical contest at Anaheim, recently besides taking part in numerous other contests. Eight other students who ran the two a close race for scholarship honors were Miss Alice Wilmarth, Miss Blanche Helm, Roscoe Bradbury, Miss Lynette Robb, Ralph Hendrickson, Richard Drew and Arthur Brewster.

Other graduates this year will include the following: Arthur Hervey, Dennis Allen, Clyde Soden, Cecil Sallens, Velma Williams, Lily Price, Delbert Higgins, Hazel Radin, Violette Fontaine, Nell Mitchell, Ruth Mitchell, Margaret Mallett, Frances Chandler, Crawford Gate, Irene Rowley, Fred Rowley, Basil Mark, David Russell, Susan Russell, James Smith, Fannie Griffie, Chester Moomaw, James Kemper, Schuyler Pann, Wendell Slayton, Hilma Martin, Marie Colburn, Wilbert Wiehoben, Miss Ida Shupe, Elvin Milbratt, Clyde Seltzer, Dan Berry, Wayne Gilchrist, Esther Radford, Victor Terry and Bird Palmer.

Although there are only 20 girls against 26 boys in the class, the first ten divide the scholarship honors evenly.

TUSTIN TEACHERS RETAIN POSITIONS

TUSTIN, May 9.—Only one teacher of the present faculty will be missing from the list of grammar and primary school teachers next year, it was announced today following the annual election of the school board this week. The approval of the elections was signed by Hugh Plumb, president of the school board, W. I. Ferrey, clerk, and Mrs. J. W. Rice.

During the past year 20 teachers have been employed at the school. Dora Pankey Gilnes is the teacher whose resignation was accepted. She was the penmanship teacher at the school.

Other teachers who will be at school again next year are: Miss Ola E. Blair, Miss Lucy S. Royce, Miss Mary E. Durbin, Mrs. R. Eleanor Palmer, Miss Clara Enderle, Miss Anna Neal, Mrs. Alice H. Gaylord, Mrs. Gladys Perozzi, Mrs. Myrtle Shallenberger, Miss Fannie Hasty, Miss Lela Newton, Mrs. Viola Carson Newell, Mrs. Edith Hurd, Mrs. Effie Slusser, Mrs. Alice Brown See, Miss Mildred Morrow, Miss Ruth Taylor, George Gaylord, and Miss Irene D. Catland.

Charles A. Weise, principal of the school, will be at the head of the school again next year.

Site Selected For New H. S. Building

BREA, May 9.—It became known unofficially today that the newly elected trustees of the Brea-Olinda high school district have selected a site for the proposed high school building, located on the Brea-Olinda highway near this city.

Definite action on this or other matters pertaining to the establishment of the school cannot, however, be made until the required legal period after their election date has elapsed when the Superintendent of Schools Mitchell will call them together to organize officially as a high school board.

Vaudeville At Orange Planned For Hot Months

ORANGE, May 9.—A series of free vaudeville entertainments, to be presented to the public in the city plaza, during the summer months, was the topic of discussion at the meeting here Thursday night, of the Merchants and Manufacturers association.

A committee, consisting of Homer Larkin, chairman; Ross Stuckey, Ray McCarthy, T. C. McBride, William Hagen, Stanley Mansur, Walter Pixley and A. S. Lindholm was appointed Thursday night to make an investigation as to the feasibility of such action.

The summer entertainment features, it is explained by officers of the association, would be presented, primarily for the purpose of proving to the public that its patronage is appreciated. It is expected, however, that the free features also will draw large crowds to the city.

The committee in charge will ascertain, during the next few weeks, the sentiment of the merchants of the city and find whether enough money will be subscribed to insure the success of the venture.

TELEPHONE CO. IS ACCUSED OF DAMAGING S.T.

NEWPORT BEACH, May 9.—Whether the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company is violating a city ordinance by tearing up the paving without the written consent of a majority of the board of trustees, will be a subject discussed at the next meeting of the board.

Dr. Conrad Richter brought the matter up at the meeting of the Harbor Chamber of Commerce, when he stated that the telephone company had cut the paving in front of its building at East Newport for the installation of a new cable. Trustee H. Cardozo Sloan also stated that the action had not been sanctioned by him.

At the time the city put down its many miles of new paving, an ordinance was passed prohibiting any person or corporation to cut the paving for mains or conduits or other repairs, without such person or corporation first securing the written consent of at least three members of the board. The telephone company had not applied for such a permit at the May 4 meeting of the trustees.

The reason the ordinance was passed was to prevent unsightly and uneven pavements, caused by public utility concerns digging them up to put in their lines, a practice much in vogue in nearly every city in the county. The plan of the trustees was to have these companies put down their mains before new paving was laid.

The ordinance in question makes it a misdemeanor for violation. Just what action the board will take was not indicated.

RECORD BOOK YEAR

LONDON, May 9.—More books were published in England in 1924 than ever before. The total was 12,706, or 27 more than in 1923, the next highest year. Fiction holds first place in the list with 2801.

RADIO NEWS

RADIO, SHIP PLANE, NAVY HEALTH AIDS

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—Radio, ship and airplane have been combined to keep the U. S. navy in healthy condition.

By radio the U. S. S. Relief, hospital ship of the navy, now stationed here, keeps in touch with its radius and flashes advice for the cure of sick sailors afloat.

If a battleship's own medical officers cannot cope with a serious case, the Relief sends out its Aerial Ambulance, a plane especially built for the purpose, to bring the patient to the floating hospital.

Arrangements for such service are made by wireless, through a 5 kilowatt transmitter and a double set of naval receivers on the Relief.

Ancient Apparatus
This radio apparatus is old, hardly comparing with the modern equipment of our latest battleships. It's a spark transmitter, and even the receivers are of the vintage of 1915.

Officers of the Relief hope to modernize the equipment with the latest types of receivers and a CW transmitter to replace the spark equipment. But they have to wait for an appropriation from Congress.

The Relief's greatest service is felt during maneuvers, or during actual sea warfare. Then, the hospital ship is part of the fleet, taking its place with the other auxiliaries. Its ambulance airplane is always ready to make a call to any battleship in the fleet and bring back a wounded or stricken sailor.

The ship in itself is a model of hospital arrangement and equipment. She is an oil burner, free from dirt and dust. She has 64 water-tight compartments, making her practically unsinkable.

Equal to Best
The ship's decks are wide and spacious and have room for 146 swinging cots. Her hospital capacity is 500 beds. Only about 31 hospitals in the United States have 500 or more beds.

Besides her hospital capacity, the Relief carries an entire brigade hospital equipment for the establishment of an emergency base hospital at a port.

Her operating room and other working compartments are as well equipped as those of the best land hospitals. Her wards for infectious cases are astern, apart from the rest of the ship.

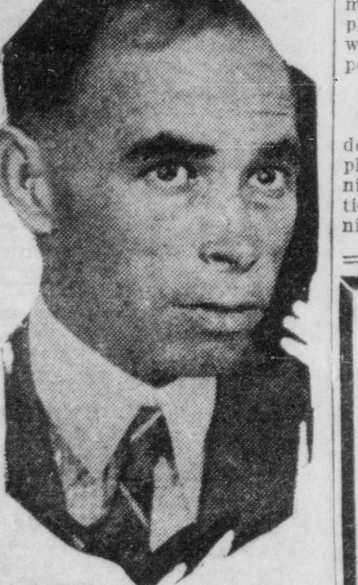

Yet, it is pointed out, that the Relief's radio equipment is the least modern of all on board. Funds are lacking to bring it up to date.

Until the ship gets its quota for this purpose, the 5 kilowatt spark transmitter is proving satisfactory for the time.

MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM
Station WJAW is prepared to devote its schedules for May 19 to the celebration of Mother's Day. The Sunday evening program, beginning at 8:30, will be exclusively on this subject.

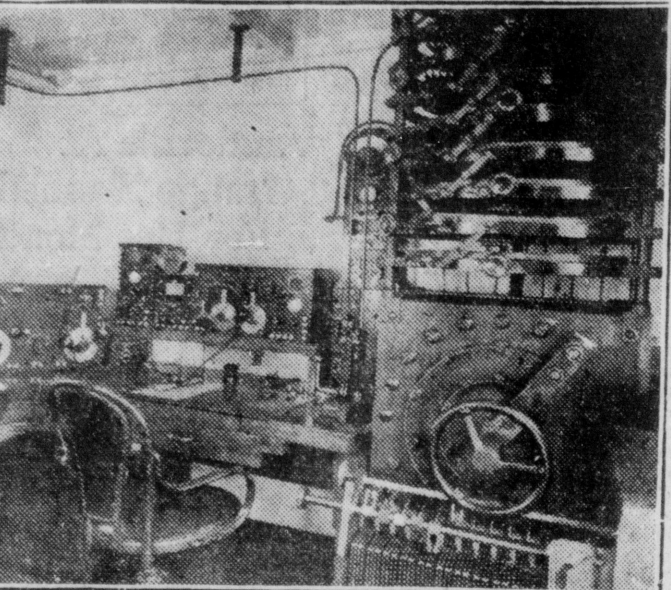

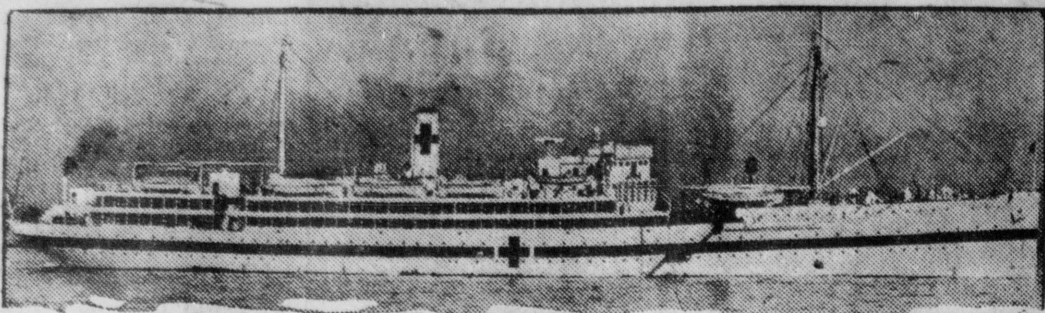

ESPERANTO ON AIR
Esperanto, world language, was put on the air by Station WCCO in an experiment backed by the American Radio Relay League. Songs and speeches were given in this language.

Air Education

The late Roger C. Sullivan, Chicago political leader, will be honored by the construction of two stations, one given to the University of Illinois and the other to Notre Dame University, by the politician's son, Boetius Sullivan, shown here. Young Sullivan has given $100,000 to outfit the stations and has promised $8000 to maintain them annually.

Old Radio on Modern Ship

The U. S. S. Relief (upper view) has one of the best hospital organizations in the country. Yet its radio equipment (lower photo) is considered almost obsolete.

Short Cuts

Things to Know in Building and Operating a Receiver

As an experiment, try your B-current supply set as an aerial. Connect the ground post of the current supply set to the ground post of the receiver and hook the receiver antenna post to the regular ground on the water system.

Make a lock for your set by using a single-circuit phone jack as a battery switch. Bend the jack prongs so they will not make contact except when a plug is inserted. When the set is not in use, carry the plug in your pocket.

Stop howling or humming in the audio stages by grounding the negative-A line, reversing leads to the primary of the transformer or by putting a suitable by-pass condenser across the transformer secondaries.

Connect leads from several grounded objects to a set of switch taps. By moving the switch arm over the points while the set is in operation you can locate the best ground.

Graining a panel is not difficult if you rub it lengthwise with a piece of No. 00 emery cloth and finish with an oiled cloth.

2000 SETS FOR BLIND
The American Radio Relay League has offered the technical aid of its members to the American Foundation for the Blind, for the installation of 2000 radio receivers in homes of blind persons in the country.

RADIO PRESERVED
Station WJAR tried the experiment of recording radio concerts on phonograph records. The process was invented for this special purpose by Francis R. Hoyt.

BIG STRING CONCERT
Sixty mandolins, mandolas, mandocellos, banjos, tenor banjos, plectrum banjos and guitars furnished a unique concert from Station WTIC, at Hartford, Conn., last night.

Persians Object To Their Women Giving Up Veils

TEHERAN, Persia, May 9.—There are visible signs that Persia is on the eve of a great social turmoil leading to political complications. The cause is the educated, liberal-minded military governor of Resht, a Caspian sea coast town of great commercial importance, who is making public speeches to aid women and encouraging the female movement to discard the veil.

Several cases are reported of women, unveiled and in European garb, holding mass demonstrations in Resht. They were beaten and driven home by males, who in turn were attacked by the military. Firing into the mobs is reported, but a strict censorship on telegrams and letters keeps the extent of the movement and the casualties in the dark.

The modernized military governor's action is regarded here as a sign that the government sympathizes with the movement. There is, however, a very strong priesthood, and it is feared that the priests, to safeguard their interests, in the name of the prophet and law will utilize their services on ignorant, fanatical jealous husbands. The more liberal males favor the movement.

HELD FOR MILLION
LONDON, May 9.—Charles Alfred Gardner, managing director of a shipbuilding concern, is charged with obtaining a check for nearly $1,000,000 through false pretenses.

BET ON SAVING DUCKS
LLANELLY, Eng., May 9.—Miners worked for a week to rescue four ducks from an abandoned pit here. The work was extremely dangerous because of obnoxious gases. Bets were made on when the birds would be rescued.

NEW PROGRAM CHIEF
Coleman Goetz, brother of Ray Goetz, theatrical impresario and song writer, has been appointed program director and announcer at Stations WTAS and WCEE at Elsin, Ill.

RADIO IS SPEEDY BUT IT TIRES FAST

DES MOINES, May 9.—Less than one-hundredth of a second is required for a radio wave to speed from a high-powered broadcasting station in New York to Iowa receiving sets. Dr. Paul S. Helmick, professor of physics at Drake University here, declares.

Few realize the feeble intensity of the radio waves which come in at the rate of 600,000 waves a second and a speed 300,000 times as fast as that of the bullet of a high-powered rifle.

Yet a radio wave is not a good traveler, Dr. Helmick says. A long journey wears it. While a radio wave requires less than one-hundredth of a second to travel from New York to Iowa, in this short time it has become so attenuated that it is able to induce in the receiving loop a current of only a millionth of the intensity required to operate an electric light.

But small as is the energy received from the 1500-watt station, radio amplifiers are so effective that the power given the loud speaker is billions of times the power received by the aerial.

EDUCATION NIGHT

Every Monday night is education night for Station KGO at Oakland. This station has the cooperation of the Oakland school system for broadcasting helpful material to children and their parents.

DX STILL THE CRAZE

Distance getting is still the fad. Take Edward Elwell Jr., of Bloomburg, Pa. He sits up every night to get KFI at Los Angeles. He has the record of having logged this station for 50 consecutive nights.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

Many broadcasters are beginning to broadcast on daylight saving time. This is one hour earlier than the standard time in each time area. Eastern stations especially have adopted this system.

THROUGH STATIC ZONE

Despite the extreme static conditions around Rio de Janeiro, Station KDKA has been able to send its low wavelength programs to that city with a record of fair reception.

"Meet the Folks!"

This is a new radio family. The gentleman to the left (father,) has forgotten all about business worries. He's so dog-gone interested in the program he's even forgotten that Jones' chickens pulled up his spring garden. He's actually smiling.

Next comes mother. Think of it! A quarter of nine and she's forgotten to put little Minnie to bed.

Minnie is the young one. She likes the radio, too. Not a chirp out of her all evening. (Unusual, what?) Even the dog seems to be smiling. Music soothes the most savage beast. Over to the right is the cause of all this joy and contentment.

Is it just a radio set? No, No! It is a Kennedy radio set!

Man Glad He's In Jail to Escape Nagging Spouse

OGDEN, Utah, May 9.—Tom Disanga, 60 years old, sought refuge in the Weber county jail a few days ago, declaring his wife had "nagged" him until he was ill. He asked and received a chance to catch up in his sleep. Now the sheriff is finding his case a puzzle.

The wife implored Tom to return to their home, and when he refused threatened charges of bigamy, declaring he had a wife in Italy.

Tom only chuckled, declaring he already is in jail and perfectly satisfied, whatever happens.

Seize Old Liquor In Hotel Trunks

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—A surprise raid by prohibition officers headed in person by Captain Charles Goff, raiding chief, resulted in seizure of $100,000 worth of old liquor in 40 trunks at the Hotel Argonaut and arrest of seven hotel attaches here.

Whiskey bottled nine years ago and other rare liquors were found in the trunks.

Kirk Harris, manager of the hotel, which is owned by the California Society of Pioneers, Henry Cornelius, night clerk, and bell-boys were arrested. Harris maintained he was ignorant of the presence of the liquor in the hotel.

The pioneers' society is on record as upholding prohibition enforcement.

KFRC BROADCASTS INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT COFFEE

The United States is the largest consumer of coffee, drinking about one-half of the world's supply, each person in this country using an average of about 12 to 13 pounds a year.

But the people of the United States are not the largest individual users of coffee, because recent statistics have revealed that the people of Holland consume 18 pounds per capita per annum.

Other countries which use a fair amount of coffee are Germany, France and England. But in Germany beer is the popular beverage, just as wine is in France and tea is in England, Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Sweden are also coffee users, while in Russia, Italy and the other countries the consumption of coffee is very small.

These were some of the interesting points brought out by George W. Caswell, well known coffee manufacturer of the famous Caswell's National Crest Coffee, in a talk which he recently made over Radio KFRC.

"Coffee was second on the list of merchandise imported to San Francisco in 1924," said Caswell. "The amount of coffee imported was valued at $26,000,000. Raw silk ranked first in imports, amounting to $39,000,000. These figures show conclusively the tremendous amount of coffee consumed by the people of the United States."

"The world's consumption of coffee at the present time is about 20,000,000 bags a year," Caswell added. "During the last five years the consumption of coffee has been steadily increasing, while, on the other hand, the supply of coffee and production has steadily decreased."

"Brazil, which is the largest coffee growing country in the world, (and coffee is her principal product) is producing less coffee today than she was 20 years ago."

"In the last five years the total of her coffee crops was less by 6,700,000 bags than in the five years period from 1914 to 1919. This condition is of serious concern to all importers and roasters."

YOUNG REFUTES STATEMENT ON RETIREMENT

BERKELEY, Calif., May 9.—Lt. Gov. C. C. Young today issued a statement refuting an article appearing in the San Francisco Chronicle to the effect that he would give up politics. The statement follows:

"In a San Francisco morning paper of May 6 appears a somewhat extended article, purporting to be based on 'authoritative sources,' and headed 'Lieutenant Governor Young to give up politics. Unmaterial aspirations abandoned.' Inasmuch as this article may seem actually 'authoritative,' and as such may be copied elsewhere, I feel that a prompt statement from myself may be in order."

"As to 'giving up politics,' if 'politics' means an active interest in public affairs, I feel that the reports of my retiring from such activities are a little like the premature reports of Mark Twain's death, which he characterized as 'slightly exaggerated.'"

"I have never told anybody that I intended to be a candidate for governor. Neither have I ever told anybody that I did not intend to be a candidate for governor."

"In the past, many people that in my estimation it was altogether too early to settle upon candidacies for an election a year and a half away; and that, as for myself, I proposed to continue in the duties of my present office to the very best of my ability, and let the future take care of itself when that time comes."

"I believe that the office of governor of California is altogether too important a position to be the toy of any man's personal aspirations or ambitions. I believe that, at the proper time, the people will make manifest their desires as to the proper candidate. Pending such time, I have expressed no 'aspirations,' and consequently have not 'abandoned' any."

"I cannot help wondering as to the identity of those 'close personal friends' who are quoted in the above mentioned article as so obligingly announcing my 'retirement' from further participation in public affairs. Is it perhaps possible that one of them is my friend, Friend W. Richardson?"

Wells Becomes Hermit In Order To Pen New Book

NICE, May 9.—H. G. Wells, the British novelist and economist, has been discovered living in an isolated farmstead high up in the mountain valley behind Cannes.

An interviewer was attracted to the spot by the spectacle of a postman staggering beneath a load of books, papers, and letters in the hermit's morning mail, none of which bore the name of the addressee but only that of the provincial farmhouse.

"These are for the English writer, who must be terrified by something or somebody," explained the burly and panting functionary. "Nobody knows his name hereabouts."

Although angered at being discovered, Mr. Wells soon became more amiable, saying: "I merely require several months of absolute solitude to complete the work I have had in mind for many years. This is my first visit to the Riviera, and it is wonderful up here away from it all."

Must Not Be Lazy, Motto of Woman 100 Years of Age

LONDON, May 9.—Mrs. Sarah Rebecca Bryan of Bermondsey has just celebrated her one hundredth birthday. She was born at Bocking, near Braintree, and has had 10 children. Two of them are alive, one "girl" being 73, and the other 70.

Mrs. Bryan states that she distinctly remembers the accession of Queen Victoria, and that the people at the time remarked, "Now we are going to have petticoat government."

When left a widow she became a stewardess and traveled extensively, her motto all through her life being "I must not be lazy."

SUGGEST MUSIC AS SUBSTITUTE FOR LIP STICK

Is it possible for music to cause flowers to retain their original bloom?

And if the sweet strains of a violin, or, perchance the not so sweet strains of a ukelele or a saxophone, can so affect flowers, is it not reasonable to assume that this same music can be utilized by the members of the bobbed-hair sex in helping them keep "that sex-dog" complexion?

Santa Ana women who make a practice of keeping a close watch on their color, are all agog, as the society writers would say, over the prospect of substituting music for rouge.

A Milwaukee musician, F. C. Billings, started all the comment when he announced a few days ago that experiments conducted by him proved to him that flowers will retain their original bloom if subjected to the rhythmic strains of music.

Will Present Conclusions
Billings will present his conclusions at the silver jubilee convention of the music trades at Chicago, June 8 and 11.

It is believed that the convention will name a committee to test out the Milwaukee man's contention. If his statements are borne out, the next step will be to experiment with human flowers, it is thought here.

Should it be proven that music does help the complexion, it is a foregone conclusion that a great rush will ensue for radios, phonographs and, for those who can afford them, entire orchestras. For those who like to make their own music, harmonicas, Jew's harps, and the like, are expected to prove popular with those seeking to keep the original bloom.

Care in Choosing Music
Great care will no doubt have to be taken in the selection of music. A fox trot, for instance, is not as likely to improve the bloom as a one step. However, this is a matter for individual investigation. It should be emphasized, though, that women trying the experiment should proceed carefully, in order to get the right music, with the resultant best results.

The Milwaukee musician is firm in his contention that the rhythmic strains of music will cause flowers to keep their bloom. According to him, flowers are especially susceptible to music. While he has not stated just the type used during the experiments, it is thought that Billings played the so-called gay pieces.

While many persons are inclined to scoff at the suggestion that music could possibly improve their complexions, there are some who are taking the matter seriously and giving much thought to it. Should the theory prove practical, beauty shops and drug stores specializing in complexion specialties probably would experience a great falling off in business.

Youngsters Win Final Tilt
A discussion of this aspect of the matter occurred when the college students first began to appear. Some of the "old fogies" in the vernacular of the students, suggested that the girls not be allowed to sit together. They feared that the youngsters' ideas might develop too rapidly and that the meeting might break up in a stampede, they said.

But the students lost no time in protesting this signal of oppression. A straw vote was taken by some well meaning league members, with the result that the youthful politicians emerged victorious, while the parent leaguers retired to their grumblings.

28 BOYS LEARN TO SWIM IN 'Y' FREE LESSONS

Twenty-eight boys can swim today who one week ago were totally unable to handle themselves in the water as a result of the free swimming campaign which has been carried on at the Y. M. C. A.

Free lessons were given for the week to any boy more than 10 years of age, who could not swim. Those who could swim a little were not accepted for these lessons. A number of men took advantage of the lessons also.

Following is the list of boys who learned to swim under the teaching of Physical Director R. R. Rusick: Raymond Hayes, Quincy Stratton, Charles White, Rodney Yould, William Downing, Edward Terrill, Eldon Hermes, Charles Blum, Harold League, Leonard Thompson, Herbert Haynes, John Vanderbilt, Kenneth Lamb, Lloyd Christian, Bruce Farmer, Glenn McWaters, Francis Flynn, Edward Lansdown, Raymond Brock, William Howells, Joseph Veasey, Joseph Korel, Don Stevens, Orville Tilden, George Guyan and Raymond Hams.

Rusick is prepared to give regular instruction to all boys and men in the Y

EVENING SALUTATION

INTER-CITY IMPROVEMENTS

An idea is a mighty good thing—if the idea is a good idea. Certainly the idea credited to M. Eltiste of Orange, of a joint inter-city committee of Chamber of Commerce men to consider and formulate plans of co-operation between Orange and Santa Ana for public improvements of equal benefit to both cities, and which might be secured through co-operation—certainly that is a good idea with a capital G.

As reported in yesterday's paper, this inter-city committee, composed of representatives of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce, got into action at a meeting held at St. Ann's Inn Thursday evening. In addition to the members of the committee quite a good many members of the Chambers of Commerce of both Orange and Santa Ana were present, and the sentiment was enthusiastically unanimous in favor of selling the idea to both cities of co-operation between them in providing a park of joint ownership and control somewhere midway between the two cities. The opinion prevailed pretty generally that the park site should be along Santiago creek, where the land required could be secured at a reasonable price and where topographical conditions lend themselves to park purposes most admirably.

This movement is big with possibilities. It is of great social and economic value. Not only will it enable the cities of Orange and Santa Ana to secure many public improvements at a much lower cost to each city than separate improvements of like character could be had, but these improvements can be effected upon a much larger and more complete scale, and at the same time the two cities will be brought into closer relationship and better mutual understanding of the needs, opportunities and possibilities of both. Orange and Santa Ana are so close together and their physical, industrial, commercial, and social conditions are so nearly alike, that they can work together along these lines with perfect harmony and to their mutual advantage.

By all means let's have an inter-city park somewhere near the northern boundaries of Santa Ana and the southern boundaries of Orange, and in that park a fine swimming pool. And let this be followed by co-operative opening and lighting of new boulevards between the two cities, and possibly the widening and certainly the lighting of some of those we already have. Once we have demonstrated to each other as cities and to ourselves as individuals the feasibility of such co-operation, an inter-city community hospital will speedily follow.

One other possibility of such inter-city co-operation—one not yet mentioned in any plan or prospective or suggestive program—is an inter-city auditorium. With buses, street car lines and nearly every family owning an automobile, such an auditorium, located conveniently for both cities, with ample parking space about it, would become a source of pride and pleasure to every citizen of either Orange or Santa Ana and to all citizens in the surrounding territory. It could be made bigger and better by co-operation and could and should contain a fine pipe organ.

All hail inter-city co-operation in securing public improvement!

ONE-NEWSPAPER CITY

Anaheim has joined the one-newspaper class, which is growing in strength and popularity as its economic value becomes recognized.

The sale of the Plain Dealer and its withdrawal from the newspaper field at Anaheim leaves the Bulletin with the field to itself. The merchants are under contract to the Bulletin to utilize that newspaper only for Anaheim advertising for a period of five years. In fact, it was pressure from the merchants that brought about the change; the merchants were convinced that from an advertiser's point of view two newspapers, because of duplication of subscriptions, had proven highly expensive.

It is to be hoped that Anaheim will have no further disturbances such as disrupted the city during the past year. The excesses to which those engaged in a bitter controversy may go was demonstrated in an attack upon the Rev. Geissinger of Anaheim by the Plain Dealer; and the abject apology and retraction, which ranks as about the limit in such things, printed by the Plain Dealer yesterday, ought to be a warning to newspapers everywhere against abuse of their power.

VOTERS SAW THE LIGHT

San Bernardino county has voted $450,000 for a courthouse, the election showing a substantial majority over the two-thirds vote necessary to carry. It took three efforts to secure the passage of bonds. The fact that the bonds were twice defeated did not deter the board of supervisors in its determination to keep hammering away at the project, for San Bernardino county needed the courthouse just as bad after the second election as it did before the first.

San Bernardino had a similar experience with its county highway bonds, which failed of passage when first submitted. Evidently, San Bernardino believes in the theory of "Try, try again," which is a good theory for a county or municipality to keep in mind. Each campaign for bonds is educational. When the purpose is clear and the cause is justifiable from an economic standpoint, and when the situation is made clear to them and the details satisfactory to them, the people will vote for large expenditures of money.

SIGN THE BILL, GOVERNOR

A request comes from Governor Richardson for our opinion as to the merits of Assembly Bill No. 159, increasing the salaries of the Superior Court judges in the counties of Orange, San Bernardino and San Joaquin from $5,000 to $6,000 per annum.

In view of the possibility that the governor really wants advice in the matter, it might be well for those having the best interests of Orange county at heart to write to him, as we did, urging him to sign the bill. For it is becoming increasingly difficult for Orange county—or any county of anything like our population—to secure the services of competent men as Superior Court judges at the wholly inadequate salary of $5,000 per annum.

In this respect Orange county has been singularly fortunate. Judge West went on the bench when the county was small in population and the litigation was light in volume and living costs were very low as compared with those of today. By the time the work of his court grew heavy, and his salary light in comparison to the cost of living, sitting on the bench had become second nature to Judge West and fortunate investments had made him independent financially. Moreover, with his fine judicial temperament and exceptional all-round qualifications, it is almost certain that Judge West's devotion to high civic ideals and his deep feeling of obligation to public service would have kept him on the job regardless of monetary considerations.

In Judge Williams, Orange county has another judge who has no superiors and few peers anywhere. But here again we have a man of ample means consecrating to the public service abilities that, at the bar, would command many times the judicial salary.

And Judge Drumm, another man of fine character and ability—but Judge Drumm is resigning because he is comparatively a young man, with a growing young family, and can't afford to work for a judge's salary.

Other counties are not so fortunate as Orange has been hitherto, and the increasing difficulty of finding competent men who are both able and willing to go on the bench at salaries representing only a very small part of what they could earn in private practice makes it imperative that judicial salaries should be revised upwards.

PRESERVE CHORAL UNION

It has been intimated that there is a possibility that the Orange County Choral Union might give up its work. The hundreds of residents of the county who saw "The Prince of Pilsen" produced this week at the Santa Ana High school auditorium will rise up as a body to protest against any such course. The successful performance, artistically and musically, was a community achievement, and one that ought to be repeated two or three times a year.

We realize that the work of keeping up the choral union falls upon the shoulders of a few, whose loyalty deserves a public vote of thanks. It seems impossible to spread the duties out over many; it seems necessary to have the responsibility placed upon a few. But those few, we are sure, receive their reward, not only in a consciousness of having done a community service but in a broadening and educational value for themselves that cannot be measured in money.

We believe that the public appreciates the high value of the work of the choral union.

Saving Daylight

Bakersfield Californian.

A Long Beach correspondent in a Los Angeles paper writes as follows: "California should re-establish daylight saving. Why should people sleep in the daylight in the morning and stay up in the darkness at the end of the day? Daylight saving does no good if only one person or one community practices it. It should be state-wide or national."

Daylight saving would be welcomed by a very large number of people in California for the undeniable advantages it holds in the way of longer hours for recreation, better health and opportunity to conserve that period of the day in which the human faculties are at their best. The people of other states, while not unanimous by any means in approval of this modern idea, go on year after year enjoying the benefits of daylight saving and the record of their experience is that the good derived much more than offsets any objectionable features that it may possess. For a period of about six months they adjust daily schedules an hour in advance of those prevailing in the other six months, and thereby have an extra hour of daylight in which to work, play or relax in whatever manner suits them best.

Past efforts to save daylight hours in California communities have not been conspicuous for their success owing to apparently wide difference of opinion among the people as to desirability of setting the clock ahead one hour during the summer. As the newspaper correspondent points out, daylight saving does no good if only one community practices it, and it should be state-wide or national. Many persons have condemned daylight saving because of the confusion it created where the change was not general, and we quite agree with the writer if California is to have daylight saving in the future it should be state-wide and not confined to any particular section.

Changes In Polar Travel

San Diego Union.

Sixteen years ago, when Peary announced his discovery of the north pole, after many failures and a grueling final drive over the ice floes that surround the top of the world, any man who proposed a flight to the pole by airplane would have run the danger of imprisonment in a padded cell. At that time the airplane had only just ceased to be a crazy freak, and a M. Heriot of France was being condemned for his announced intention of trying to fly across the English channel in one. Heriot made it, by the way, in that summer of 1909. We have come a long way since then.

Today we are only mildly interested in Amundsen's plan to fly from Spitzbergen to the pole and back again in eight hours. If a man must go to the north pole, his is undoubtedly the most convenient and practical method of travel.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

WHY JOINTS ARE STIFF

Stiffness of joints may result from long infection from the blood stream, which has been so mild that the general health and strong resistance has been able to "stave" it off until something unusual happened. Stiffened joints also result from inflammation from diseases which attack the muscles and ligaments in various ways.

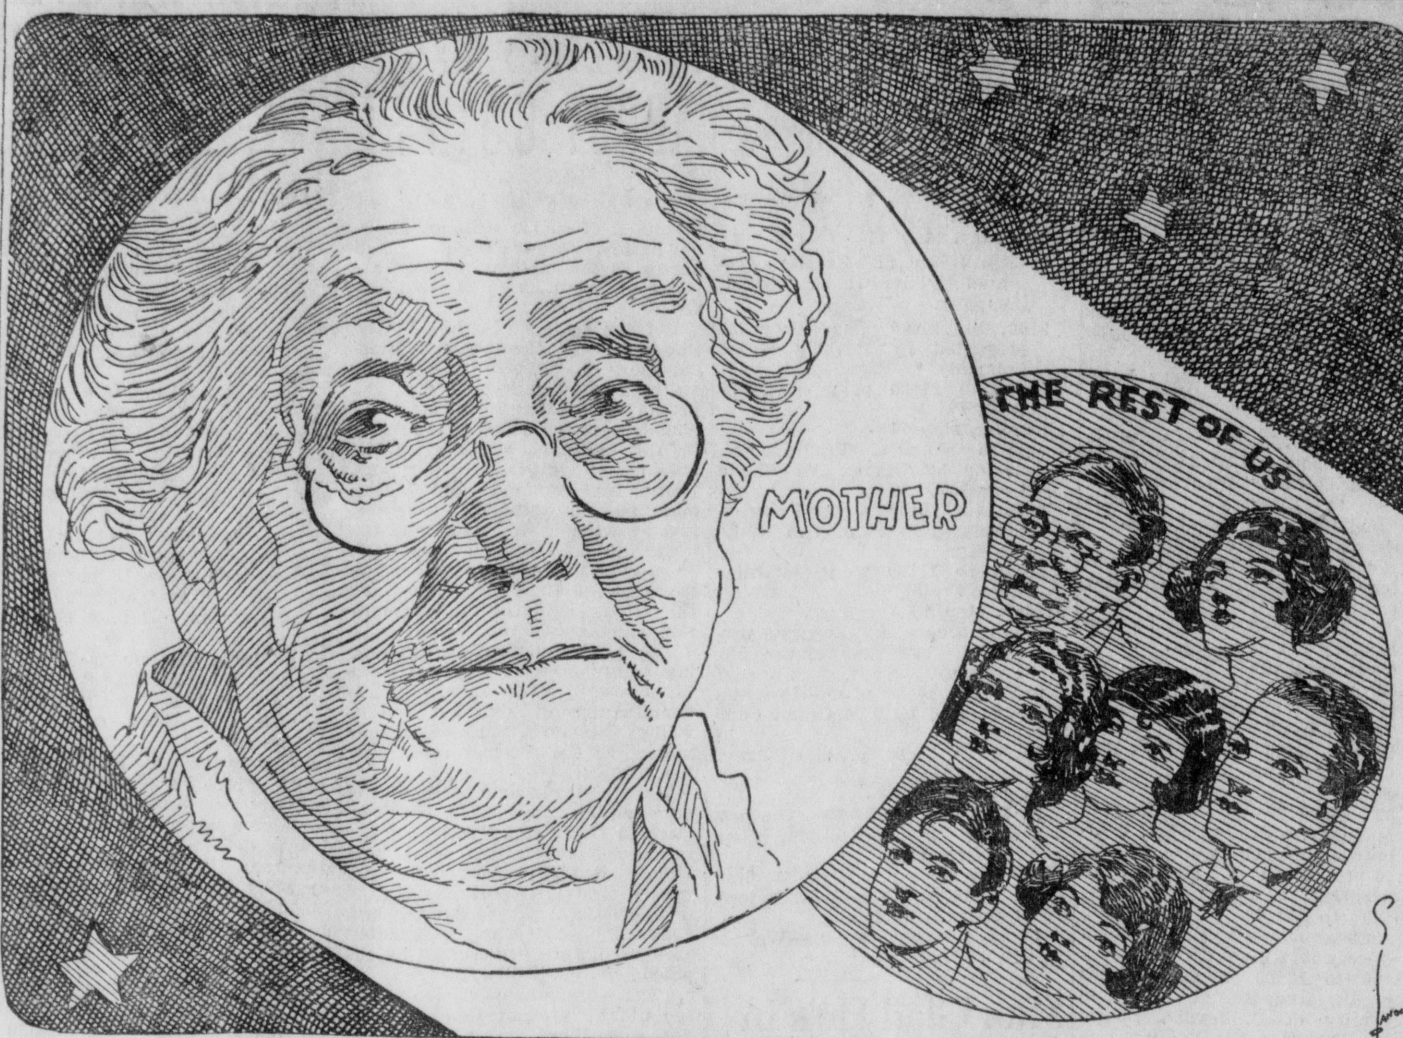

Chronic arthritis (inflammation and twisting), often causing enlargement and twisting) is a common cause in many older people. Another cause is from long continued non-use of a joint, or joints as a result of injury and consequent inflammation. In this kind of joint stiffness, the controlling muscles decrease or waste away from lack of use. The skin is drawn tightly and the muscles will not function.

If stiff shoulder, knee or ankle joints, under these conditions, show no signs of being restored to usefulness under direct application, massage or proper exercise, the physician may advise the breaking of the lingering adhesion. However, there is no surety that this will accomplish the restoration of the joint.

Lack of proper exercise has much to do with stiff ankles and difficulty in walking. There is a loss of suppleness, most always a certain amount of deformity and, of course, great inconvenience.

In younger persons, the proper course to pursue is to remedy any infection at once. Have a health examination, including X-ray. Stop the cause at once by right diet and correct habits, including exercise. Medicines are of very little value. So-called baking with heat will often afford temporary relief, but in older people the stiffening gradually gets worse as time advances.

TODAY'S ECLIPSE

The Big Plan

The Survey Graphic had a Regional Planning number recently. The most casual glance over titles and pictures could not but bring realization of the faultiness and ephemeral quality of our lives.

Some of us do not plan at all, leaves cast hither and yon by every breeze. Some of us plan for a day, a week, a year. Some communities plan one thing, such as roads, for a few years ahead. But no community seems to take into consideration any whole plan of growth and development.

We have learned to prune the individual tree so that it may develop in beauty, symmetry and maximum fruitfulness, though we have learned but very little about feeding a nation or the world seasonably and symmetrically. We build roads which will be worn out when paid for, although we know that the needs of transportation when those roads go to pieces will exceed any present need. We have learned a little about helping the development of the individual child, but the city which plans school buildings five years ahead does so knowing that in five years it will be as far behind the educational need as it is today.

One phrase, caught up by the casual glance at the magazine, sticks in the memory. "First we must find the big plan."

There is an eternal plan. There are lines of immortal beauty and never-failing symmetry.

These things are discovered not by petty political fussing and fighting over details. They come to the vision big enough to take in the place and use of every atom of earthly dust in the starry cosmos. That the great vision of man as he ought to be should come to many men is the prerequisite. Enough strong minds inspired by the vision could put over any glorious plan.

THE SOWER

After the sower with the seed
What mightier being strides behind
Who from a fiery hand strews out
And everyone becomes a slave,
Laboring through earth from seed to sun
The elves of life upon the wind?
Till the green pillar's thick with grain
And the lord marvelous labor's done.

Ah, when the food is made for man,
The spirits that the scythe sets free;
Do they exult and do they fly,
Sower of Life, again to Thee?

FISH DAY

Chinese Consul Moy Back Him said at a dinner in Portland: "It is a great mistake to accuse the Chinese of a lack of wit. A tramp knocked at the kitchen door of a Portland home one day, and a smiling Chinaman appeared."

"Say, John," croaked the tramp, "give me a hand-out, for the love of Mike, will you? 'Selp me, I'm starvin'."

"Like fish?" inquired the Chinaman with a bland smile. "Betcha sweet life I like fish," said the tramp eagerly.

"Call Friday," said the Chinaman, and still smiling blandly he shut the door.—From Everybody's.

On The Side Lines

A Record of Individual and Independent Opinion.

(Which may or may not be in harmony with the views of the Register.)

LET'S TRY IT—According to good authority there are at least one hundred manufacturing concerns in Orange county which are turning out articles in general use.

So it is that if we of Orange county highly resolve to patronize home industry and home institutions as fully as may be, the result is bound to be beneficial, not only to the institutions in question, but to ourselves.

What Lincoln is quoted as having said concerning the steel rails comes in very much apropos here: "If we buy our steel rails in England we get the steel rails and England gets the money. But if we buy our steel rails at home we get the steel rails and keep the money."

THE NON-VOTING THREE-

FIFTHS—Notwithstanding the unusual effort made to get out the vote at the recent city election in Los Angeles, only about 40 per cent of the registered voters went to the polls. The election being fairly close, a little more than one-half of those voters of $5 or more.

If it be indeed a fact that some one has blundered to the extent that this tax cannot be collected throughout the state it will be indeed a pity. There are thousands of men in the state (chiefly Mexicans) having large families in attendance at the public schools. Very many of those people pay no property tax, and in all fairness and decency they should pay the proposed poll tax, which would go to help support the public schools.

UNSAFE EXPERIMENT—It may as well be conceded that very few husbands will successfully withstand the "acid" test. Anyway, it is not safe to try it, as a Los Angeles woman will have to serve a long term in state's prison for so doing.

SHE WASN'T TALL AT ALL—

It's great to be a "popular novelist" and get a big price for the clotted nonsense usually found in the "best seller." Here, for example, is a gem in the way of a description of the heroine of one of the most popular novels of the day: "He glanced at her figure. Tall? She certainly was tall—no she wasn't, yes, she was. No, not tall from head to foot, but with the most captivating long lines—long throat, long bust, long arms, long in body, and in legs—long and slender—yet, somehow, not tall."

SURELY WAS—In a recent item The Register speaks of the time "about 20 years ago" when the Prince of Pilsen "was the hit of several seasons." Well, if it comes to that, Anheuser-Busch was mighty well thought of along about that time.

NO LOSER AT THIS GAME—

Speaking of Orange county folk who are more or less in the public eye, here is a little story concerning Herman Harris formerly a merchant of Santa Ana:

Mr. Harris was the leader in the effort to vote bonds for a new court house for San Bernardino county, which effort, by the way, was finally successful.

A prominent and very bitter opponent of the proposed bonds announced that, rather than pay his share of the bonds, he would contribute $10,000 to a new Y. M. C. A. building for his home town.

"All right," said Herman, "they are both good, let's have 'em both. I will agree to pay, indeed give a bond to pay, every cent of your additional taxes because of the bonds, should they carry, and you will give $10,000 to the Y. M. C. A. building, controlled the election and chose the mayor and entire list of city officials.

That's the way we do our politics in this country. We permit one-fifth of the stockholders of that vastly important institution known as the city, or the state, to run things as they deem best and fitting, and then we kick if things don't turn out as we think they should. If any other big business enterprise—the First National bank, for instance—were to permit one-fifth of its stockholders to take complete control—well, if trouble came the inactive majority would have a lot of explaining to do.

A RIGHTEOUS TAX—

Alameda county's county assessor, Louis J. Kennedy, has announced that he would make no attempt to collect the $5 poll tax adopted by the electorate last November, because the state legislature has provided no machinery for such collection. The tax applies to all who do not pay Y. M. C. A. building. Every one is going to be pleased, who plays this game, for no one can lose."

COUNTRY IS LOSER BY

BLEDISOE'S RETIREMENT—The re-election of Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles, on Tuesday of this week, must naturally be regarded as prima facie evidence that he is just as good a man and competent official as his friends claim. However, the unfortunate phase of the election is that the country loses the services of a most excellent federal judge, Judge Benjamin Bledsoe of the federal court having resigned that position to be a candidate for mayor is now plain Citizen Bledsoe.

FINE IS ALL RIGHT—

The fact, as occasion may offer, a good natured criticism of something written by Horace Fine may appear in this column, by no means argues that the writer thereof does not regard Mr. Fine and his work very highly.

Horace Fine is a general favorite. He should be; for the great majority of people judge that a community sixty or seventy years, or somewhere along there, has always been straightforward, honest and square, must be of the material whereof good citizens are made.

Nancy and Nick and Doctor Bill all listened carefully to Mrs. Cuckoo's story.

"Yes," said she, "we have to borrow the nests of our friends to lay our eggs in, because we are in England such a short time that we have no time for nest building. In four months our children have to be big enough and strong enough to fly away to Africa with us—a thousand or more miles to spend the winter. Otherwise they would freeze."

"Of course! I see!" said Doctor Bill understandingly. "I never thought of it that way before. But do tell us what happened to you, Mrs. Cuckoo! How did you get hurt?"

"Well," said Mrs. Cuckoo, "when I got to England I began to look around for a place to bring up my family—or places, I mean, for I lay about seven good-sized eggs and one small nest wouldn't begin to hold them."

"So I found Mrs. Yellowhammer's nest with one egg in it. She was out. So I laid an egg beside hers and left it. I always choose a nest with one or two eggs in rather than an empty one, because I know that the mother will return soon and take care of my egg along with hers."

"Then the next day I found a chat's nest and laid another egg in it before Mrs. Chat got back."

"Then I found a sparrow's nest—a field sparrow. The next one was a titlark's nest, and I think I also found a wagtail's nest."

"What happened then?" asked Nick who had never heard anything like this before, although he knew a lot about birds.

"Well," sighed Mrs. Cuckoo, "I'll tell you. The other birds never knew the difference and sat on my eggs as well as their own, and after a bit my little cuckoos hatched out along with the little sparrows and wagtails and chats

Saturday afternoon me and pop was setting on our front steps, pop setting on the top step smoking and me setting on the next to the top step setting there, and Puds Simkins came up and sat down alongside of me saying, G wizz Benny, you awt to of saw the picture at the Narcississ today, it was one of the thrilliest most exciting pictures I ever saw bleeve me.

Aw, I bet it wasent as exciting as the one at the Little Grand, G winnickers that was a swell picture, talking about pictures, I sed.

If it was as good as the one at the Narcississ it was going some, thats all I got to say, the one at the Narcississ had 2 blind men fighting in it, and they knocked over everything in the room and upset the lamp and the hole house burnt down, Puds sed.

Well did it have a race between a train and a automobilee across the desert with a lady jumping from the automobilee rite into the engine? I sed.

No Puds sed, Did it have a horse falling over one side of a precipice with a man on its back and the man jumping off jst in time to grab a hole of a branch of a tree half ways down, did it? I sed.

No Puds sed, and I sed, Did it have a big boat being blowed up in the middle of the ocean with about 100 people in it so's they all had to climb up on ice bergs, tell me that?

No, Puds sed, and I sed, Well then holey smokes, G wizz, dont tell me about exciting pictures.

Well, it seemed exciting at the time, Puds sed. And he wawked away, and pop sed, Yee gods, Benny, that must be the worlds most exciting picture, was the name of it? and I sed, Well, it didnt reely have any of that stuff in it, that guy is so conseted I jst wanted to take some of the conset out of him.

Help aid sucker, pop sed, and he went in the house to reed the paper on account of the boy bringing it jst then.
